Hammarskjold Reports Success On Mission

House OK Expected Today On Soil Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's farm soil bank headed toward expected House passage today as party leaders dickered over possible compromise details.

Republicans were making conciliatory gestures, and Democrats already had given ground on some points at issue.

Chief proposal at issue was the President's disputed request for authority to pay up to 500 million dollars to farmers this year in advance of fulfillment of their soil bank commitments on next year's crops.

Republican leaders busily sought an acceptable formula that would upset Democratic opposition, but Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) declared Wednesday night that "no agreement" had then been reached.

Republicans hope to win approval of what Rep. Halleck of Indiana, GOP floor leader, called an "acceptable" compromise which would place restrictions on prepayment authority.

In early tentative form, these restrictions would in effect establish standards of payment geared to farm expenses for putting land to grass or trees, or otherwise taking surplus acreage out of production for soil bank reserves.

In all-day huddles Wednesday Democrats continued to balk at any rewriting of the bill to give what they have termed a political advantage to the administration in a bid for the November farm vote.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee countered with a proposed amendment to authorize soil bank payments for this year, not as an advance payment but only for fulfillment of soil bank agreements taking land out of cultivation this year.

Tentative agreement already had been reached on approval of Eisenhower's program to provide Midwestern commercial corn growers a minimum support price of $1.25 a bushel on corn grown without compliance with acreage allotments. The bill as originally drawn would have barred such supports.

Mandatory supports for supplemental feed grains—rye, oats, barley and grain sorghums — were also a point of controversy. Eisenhower has opposed them.

The bill would peg supports for feed grains at 5 percentage points below the support level for corn. But Republicans and Democrats alike showed a readiness to compromise differences on this point.

C. of C. To Take Poll On OTC

Delegates Won't Act On Trade Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rejecting a direct convention vote, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce set in motion today a referendum among its 3,100 affiliates on whether this country should join the Organization for Trade Cooperation.

By a 227-163 tally, voting delegates to the Chamber's 44th annual convention declined Wednesday night to act on a resolution which would have endorsed American entry into the 35-nation OTC.

Overrode Policy Group

In so doing, they overrode the recommendations of their 32-member Policy Committee and turned a deaf ear to an indirect plea from President Eisenhower.

OTC has been proposed as an administrative office for the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade (GATT). Congress has never formally approved U.S. participation in GATT, and some members oppose joining the OTC.

The Chamber's action means that it probably will not be able to go on record concerning OTC before Congress acts on the controversial question.

The fight to save the resolution endorsing OTC was led by William Blackie, chairman of the Chamber's Foreign Commerce Committee and executive vice president of the Caterpillar Tractor Co., Peoria, Ill.

Ike Supports OTC

He read a letter from Gabriel Hauge, presidential assistant on economic matters, saying Eisenhower "earnestly hopes the Chamber will see its way clear to endorse the principles" of U.S. participation in OTC, and calling it "vitally necessary to his program."

One opponent of the resolution, Chase M. Smith, general counsel of the Lumberman's Mutual Insurance Co., Chicago, said during the debate that OTC represents "an attempt to change from a free enterprise system to a world planner's dream."

Explorer Post 56 Paper Drive Cancelled

The paper drive scheduled for Saturday by Explorer Post 56 has been cancelled. It will be held at a later date. The decision was made at a meeting Monday night in the American Legion Home with the advisor, Aubrey Hayes, presiding.

Plans for a summer trip were discussed, and another meeting was set for Monday at 7 p.m. at the Legion Home. All members are urged to attend.

Hero of Tarawa Heads Marines Recruit Training

Must Make Boys Into Leathernecks Without Old Hazing Practices

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marines have picked as new boss of their recruit training a hero of bloody Tarawa, Maj. Gen. David M. Shoup.

Shoup's job will be to make boys into Marines without hazing—and without endangering their lives.

He also will have the job of curbing some of the old disciplinary practices of the Marines' noncommissioned officer drill instructors without undermining their authority or wrecking their morale.

Shoup's appointment as inspector general of recruiting was announced Wednesday by Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine commandant, in the aftermath of an investigation into the April 8 fatal march at Parris Island, S.C.

In that march at the recruit depot six "boots," as the Corps calls the untrained, were drowned. Their platoon had been ordered into a tide-swept creek by a drill instructor "to teach them discipline."

Shoup is a tough man. On occasion, the full-necked product of a farm near Battle Ground, Ind., has been known to use language which any old salty-dog type Marine could admire.

The 52-year-old graduate of DePauw University — he went to school on a scholarship and was an A student—is also a fighting man.

As much as any man he has been credited with the U.S. victory at Tarawa. After those bloody 72 hours in November 1943 in which the Marines suffered 3,166 casualties, Shoup was awarded the Medal of Honor.

"Although severely shocked by an exploding shell . . . and suffering serious leg wounds which had become infected," the citation read, "Shoup fearlessly exposed himself and . . . rallying his hesitant troops by his own inspiring heroism, he gallantly led them across the fringing reef to charge the heavily fortified island and reinforce hard-pressed, thinly held lines."

After the initial assault wave hit the beach they were clobbered. Some units had 70 per cent casualties.

Offshore in a landing craft, Shoup ordered his reserves into the desperate fight and then led them in the sweep inland. By nightfall he had set up his command post—15 yards from the water.

Kefauver-Adlai Struggle May Be Warming Up

Senator Fears 'Smear Campaign;' Stevenson To Stump In Florida

By The Associated Press

Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver observed a campaign truce today to attend the funeral of Sen. Alben W. Barkley. But there were signs their struggle for the Democratic presidential nomination might be warming up.

Before interrupting a five-day swing through Florida to fly to the Barkley funeral, Kefauver said in Defuniak Springs Wednesday he feared a "smear campaign" against him because of what he described as a false news story that he once advocated using federal troops to enforce racial integration in Southern schools.

Blames Stevenson

Kefauver said that if such a campaign should develop in Florida, Stevenson "must shoulder his part of the responsibility, since he would be the direct beneficiary."

In California, where Stevenson has been stumping, Roger Tubby, his press secretary, said Stevenson "would not participate in spreading false rumors about the senator."

Before leaving San Francisco for the Barkley rites in Paducah, Ky., Stevenson told newsmen Wednesday he thinks he has "a lot of work to do" in Florida, where he and Kefauver are contesting for 28 convention votes. The state's primary is May 29.

GOP Raps Stevenson

The Republicans, meanwhile, took a shot at Stevenson for suggesting a halt to H-bomb tests. An editorial in the May issue of the GOP National Committee's publication "Straight from the Shoulder" accused Stevenson of trying to "play politics" with the H-bomb. It said that by so doing, he gave dramatic evidence of what it called "his addleheadidness on a life-and-death issue."

Speaking before an editors' meeting in Washington April 21, Stevenson said the move he proposed would help regain the 'moral initiative" which he contended the Eisenhower administration has lost in world affairs. If other nations persisted in further H-bomb tests of their own, he said, this country could reconsider its policy.

In the same GOP publication, Party Chairman Leonard W. Hall said former President Harry S. Truman had made "low-level attacks" on President Eisenhower. Hall called on Republicans to "carry the fight to Harry Truman—zero in on the Truman record of failures."

Replying today, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said in Washington that in attacking Truman the Republicans are—as he put it—"trying to turn the calendar back when they ought to be looking ahead."

Asked About Plan

Kefauver said he was alerted to the possible "smear campaign" Monday when he was asked at two places in Florida about "my 'plan' to send federal troops down to enforce school integration." He said

FITTING EPITAPH — The body of the late Sen. Alben Barkley is carried from Foundry Methodist Church in Washington following funeral services attended by President Eisenhower and a throng of other notables and just plain folks. Barkley's last words — certainly a fitting epitaph—are on the church sign at left. The body of the Democratic statesman was taken to Paducah, Ky., for interment in the family plot.

'Veep' Taken Home For Kentucky Burial

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—The body of Alben W. Barkley, elder statesman and master wit, arrives in Paducah today for funeral and burial amid the picturesque setting of his hometown.

The special 10-car train bearing the late Kentucky Democrat senator and former vice president was due to arrive at 12:30 p.m. from Washington. Funeral services were scheduled at 2 p.m. at the Broadway Methodist Church.

President Pays Tribute

President Eisenhower and other associates and friends paid final tribute to the "Veep" at services in Washington Wednesday.

The "iron man" of politics, whose colorful career spanned half a century, died of a heart attack Monday while addressing students at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. He was 78.

Virtually all activity will halt in this river city of 50,000 as citizens pay homage to the famed native son who rose from McCracken County attorney to the vice presidency.

To Pause at His Home

After the services, the funeral cortege will pause briefly at Angles, home of Barkley, en route to Mt. Kenton Cemetery.

Police Chief Gerald Stewart said more than 150 officers would supervise the flood of traffic along with U. S. troops from the 11th Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell.

Among those expected for the funeral were Gov. A. B. Chandler, Kentucky's Sen. Earle Clements, Democratic presidential candidates Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and former President Harry S. Truman.

Inspection Is Held By Patrol Auxiliary

LISBON — Sixty members of the Columbiana County Auxiliary of the State Highway Patrol were inspected at a meeting held in the American Legion Post here Wednesday night.

Major N. W. St. John, assisted by the following Warren officers, Sgt. Edward Hartsock, Sgt. Thomas and Sgt. Clarence Shambaugh, were the examining officers. H. D. Flannery, executive secretary of the state auxiliary, also attended.

Auxiliary Captain Merle Burson presided at the meeting, assisted by Patrolman Norman Kanagy.

House Group Okays 40 Millions For Reserve, Guard Facilities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today approved a 40 million dollar construction program for Army reserve training facilities and National Guard Armories.

The committee recommended that Congress give the Army just what it asked for buildings in which to carry out an expanded beefing-up of Uncle Sam's standby forces.

In testimony before the committee Col. William R. Shuler, construction division chief for the Army's deputy chief for logistics, declared:

'All of these projects are needed now. They are for units now activated and meeting in someone's back office, in warehouses, in garages and schools."

He said the training facilities were mandatory "if we are going to give a realistic training program."

The reserve training buildings approved, on which the Federal Government would pay the entire cost, include these in Ohio (number of men designed for and cost, in that order):

Ashtabula 200, $175,000; Athens 100, $75,000; Bellaire 200, $175,000; Bryan 100, $75,000; Cadiz 1, $75,000; Chillicothe 200, $175,0; East Liverpool 20, $175,000; Fremont, 100, $75,000; Kenton 200, $175,000; Mount Vernon 100, $75,000; Newark 100, $75,000; Painesville 1 0, $75,000; Plymouth 100, $75,000; Portsmouth 200, $175,000; Sandusky 100, $75,000; St. Marys, 100, $75,00; Steubenville 200, $175,000; Urbana 100, $75,000.

British Oppose Extension Of NATO Work

PARIS (AP) —British sources said Britain told the United States today it opposes any extension of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) into the foreign aid field for the benefit of the world's undeveloped regions.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd had a midday meeting. The British informants said Lloyd told Dulles NATO members should push their aid programs through other institutions. Suggested were the International Monetary Fund, the Colombo plan for Southeast Asia, or agencies of the United Nations.

West Germany had just agreed with a French plan for linking German reunification to progress in world disarmament which, in turn, would free large sums of capital for investment.

Lloyd and Dulles met for a long discussion of East-West relations and NATO's place in that picture. They continued their talks through luncheon.

By account of the British sources:

Lloyd told Dulles Britain is willing to expand consultative functions of NATO in the political field, but opposes the creation of a new organizaion to channel aid to underdeveloped nations. He said Britain also opposes using the NATO framework for sending aid to Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

In this, he was joining French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, who said Wednesday France opposes using such aid as a weapon in the cold war.

Dulles is to present his ideas to the full NATO Foreign Ministers' Council Friday.

Cleveland Firm To Build Plant Superstructure

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co. of Cleveland today won the architectural contract for the superstructure of Chrysler Corp.'s big stamping plant at nearby Twinsburg.

Chrysler said the pact calls for the building of the manufacturing and office buildings, and oil storage and incinerator buildings.

Hunkin-Conkey will put about 500 men to work on the project. The H. K. Ferguson Co. of Cleveland already has 250 men doing excavation and foundation work for the plant.

Structural steel is being furnished and erected by the Bethlehem Steel Co., with the first steel expected to be up in about five weeks.

Cease-Fire Pact Achieved, U. N. Delegate States

Security Council Gets Envoy's Report On Trip To Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold reported to the U. N. Security Council today he had achieved cease-fire agreements between Israel and four Arab neighbors — Egypt, Lebanon, Syria and Jordan.

In a "progress report" requested by the council, Hammarskjold said he had received assurances from the governments of Egypt and Israel not to engage in hostile activities except in defense.

He said he also had concluded "with positive result" the negotiations with the parties to the other three armistice agreements, specifically Syria, Lebanon and Jordan.

The report was received a day before the deadline set by the Security Council in ordering Hammarskjold to undertake his peace mission to the Middle East.

May Be Sent Back

Hammarskjold is expected to return to New York this weekend and make a final report to the Council next week. Some diplomats said they believed he would be requested to go back in June and try to put the truce agreements on a more solid foundation.

'In carrying out my mandate," Hammarskjold reported, "I have stayed strictly within the scope set by the Security Council resolution. (The resolution requested Hammarskjold to survey the various aspects of enforcement and compliance with the armistice agreements between Israel and the four Arab states).

Hammarskjold said that he considered the resolution a mandate to negotiate for re-establishment of compliance with the agreements.

"I have considered the basic clauses of the general armistice agreements to be those which established a general cease-fire," Hammarskjold said.

Report Was In Letter

The president of the Security Council, Ambassador Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia, circulated the report immediately to members of the Council for their consideration. The report was in the form

Detroit Widow Who Cared For 45 Children Is Selected As American Mother Of 1956

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit widow whose busy hands have brought love and a happy home to 45 children is the American Mother of 1956.

She is Jane Maxwell Pritchard, who at 67 still spends nearly all her waking hours making a home for 17 lively girls who live in her rambling brick house on Detroit's East Side. All are children from broken homes, placed under her care by the Juvenile Court.

In past years, Mrs. Pritchard has been a foster parent to 17 other youngsters and reared 11 more, only one of them her own. All call her mother.

Her oldest "child" is an adopted daughter, now 43. The youngest of her formally adopted brood are a pair of 14-year-old twins. Her own son Dale is 38.

Almost from the time of her marriage to machinist Benjamin Pritchard 48 years ago, her home has revereberated with the shouts and laughter of children. Some stayed until they were married and held their weddings in her home. Others even took her name.

Busy as always, Mrs. Pritchard was sorting laundry when word came Wednesday that a jury of the American Mothers Committee, meeting in New York, had chosen her as the outstanding mother of the year.

"I'm moved to tears," she said with a soft smile, then added

First Shot In Nuclear Tests Set For Friday

KWAJALEIN (AP) —The opening shot of the new series of nuclear tests, an explosion officially described as "in the kiloton range," is scheduled early Friday at Eniwetok atoll.

An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said newsmen and federal civil defense representatives would be flown to Eniwetok to see this opening shot in addition to the later scheduled burst of a big multimillion-ton energy hydrogen bomb.

The first shot was scheduled for dawn (about 1 p.m. CST today). However there were indications the news might be delayed up to four hours because of lack of ready communications facilities.

The weather, of course, will decide whether the scheduled little kiloton fission bomb will be fired Friday.

The newsmen and defense observers will see the explosion from a vantage point on a pier at Eniwetok.

Million Dollar Fire Guts Detroit Building

DETROIT (AP)—A million dollar fire destroyed a six-story building in the downtown business district Wednesday night.

Three firemen were injured fighting the spectacular four-hour blaze.

The 80-year-old building housed the main store of the Fred Sanders Co., Detroit's largest confectionery chain, and a dress shop. Adjacent buildings suffered smoke and water damage.

About 100 persons were in a basement cafeteria when the fire was discovered. All were evacuated safely and without panic.

Police blocked off all traffic on the block today pending a check of the walls of the burned out building. Fire Chief Edward J. Blohm said, however, he did not think the walls would collapse.

The building is located on Woodward Avenue, Detroit's main north-south thoroughfare.

Fire Marshal Matthew H. McNally estimated the loss. He said the fire broke out about 6 p.m. (EST) apparently on the fourth floor where the Eaton Ready to Wear Dress Shop stores its packaging material. The cause was not determined.

Within minutes flames had enveloped the top three floors of the building and then spread rapidly to the basement.

A heavy pall of smoke blanketed the entire downtown area.

Propose $1 Million Allotment Annexation

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Council heard read Tuesday evening a proposal for the immediate annexation of a million-dollar FHA housing development at the northwest edge of town on the 26 acres owned by Phillip Hammersmith.

Atty. John Bauknecht Jr., of East Palestine presented the proposal, the terms of which will be studied by Solicitor Jack Kuhlman.

Youngstown interests are associated with Hammersmith under the name of the Castleman - Hammersmith Co., and Robert Murphy of Youngstown, who was the engineer for the addition to the Columbiana water softener plant last year, is the engineer for the development.

About 60 six-room homes are planned to be completed within three years. The developers will lay their own water and sewer lines and put in a sewage pumping station, which will be bought by the municipality in installments as the houses are completed. The pumping station will be designed to take care of the entire unsewered area at the northwestern edge of town.

Streets in the new development will connect with Stanton and Byers Aves. A 24-foot paved roadway was agreed upon for streets.

Engineer Seth Phillips of Lisbon reported having established a grade on Quincy Ave. on the east side of town. Grading of the street will involve excavation of 1,100 cubic yards at about $1.25 a yard. After the grading, the property owners must decide on the extent of the street improvement they may want to make.

Phillips also did some engineering on Fourth St. east of Firestone Ave., the first street north of E. Salem St. and on the proposed new street from N. Elm to the Y. & S. Railway. He advised a 50-foot street, but present plans call for a 40-foot street. Nazarene Church officials have said they would give no more ground from the site of their proposed new church for a wider street.

Clifford Orr, chairman of the street committee, favors a wider street as a future important thoroughfare leading to the Firestone Park area, and its extension west to Firestone Ave. or even to N. Main St.

A PROPOSAL by Jack Haines that he be authorized to serve as a merchants' policeman, to be paid by the merchants for duty in the early morning hours and during store hours ridayF nights, was given oral approval and will be acted on formally at the next meeting, Tuesday evening, May 15. David Holloway, representing merchants, spoke in favor of the merchants having a policeman to afford round-the-clock protection, and of the need of his having police authority and being armed for his own protection. A number of merchants have agreed to make a monthly contribution toward his salary.

On recommendation of Chief of Police William McGuckin, Council agreed to buy a parking meter cleaning machine for $297.50 and to send a man to the Park-o-Meter Co.'s three-day school of instruction on the care of meters to be held at either Jackson, Mich., or Springfield, Mo. McGuckin expects to send Patrolman Thomas Dodds. The company advises that each meter be cleaned every two years.

The new pay ordinance for village employes was passed on second reading, and will come up for final passage at the next meeting. An ordinance prohibiting parking on the north side of W. Friend St. from Vine to Lisbon St., on the west side of West St. from Union to Railroad St., and on the south side of Union from West to Lisbon St. was passed on first reading. It provides a maximum penalty of a $50 fine for violations.

SOLICITOR KUHLMAN read a letter from State Highway Director S. O. Linzell stating that the department does not contemplate immediate removal of the traffic light it installed as a temporary safety measure at Route 164 and the Route 14 by-pass, but reiterating that a light at that point is a responsibility of the village.

Chief McGuckin again urged the advisability of buying a new police cruiser to get good trade-in value on the present one.

McGuckin's police report for April showed receipts of $910.40 of which $484.70 were parking meter deposits, $410.70 fines and costs in mayor's court, and $15 in parking ticket fines. Meter deposits have been down every month since the fire last January.

At the request of Mayor E. L. Calvin, Councilman Charles Fisher attended a regional meeting of the Ohio Municipal League in the Lisbon town hall Tuesday evening to obtain information about keeping records for sick leave and retirement of village employes. It was a question and answer meeting. About 30 were present from Eastern Ohio counties.

Science May Aid Killing Of Sea Lamprey

OTTAWA (AP) — Science has come up with a discovery about the parasitic sea lamprey that may help to kill him—the eel-like fish destroyer emits a pulsating electrical discharge from the area of his head.

Implications of this discovery by a McMaster University professor now are under study. Fisheries scientists hope it will open up a more positive approach to the problem of eradicating the lamprey from the Great Lakes, where it has wiped out or damaged much of the lake trout and white fish population.

Dr. J. L. Kask, chairman of Canada's Fisheries Research Board, said the newly discovered electrical discharge mechanism is unique in living organisms. Scientists hope soon to devise methods to turn the lamprey's electrical pulsations against itself. The creature clings to other fish with its sucker-like mouth, damaging them beyond commercial value and eventually killing them.

Discovery of the lamprey's unique characteristic was made of zoology at McMaster University, Hamilton, Ont., whose work includes research into the effects of sonic and ultra-sonic vibrations on fish. He is currently supervising a research project being carried out by the Fisheries Research Board.

The lamprey's electrical pulsations are very low, measuring from 200 to 300 millionths of a volt at a distance of about four-fifths of an inch from the animal's head. The pulsations recur rythmically every four-fifths of a second and the duration of each is one twenty-thousandth of a second.

Researchers are trying to determine how the lamprey uses this power. They believe it is possible the lamprey can perceive changes in its electrical field caused by the presence of fish or other objects and in this way locates its prey.

Intensified efforts to destroy the lamprey have been under way for some time, using sonic vibrations, poisons and other methods. The campaign is being coordinated through the new Canada-United States Great Lakes Fisheries Commission, established to protect and sustain the Great Lakes fishery. Scientists believe discovery of the lamprey's electrical potential will give them a new weapon

2 More Salem Groups To Sell Sesqui Stamps

Two additional Salem groups will handle sales of the sesquicentennial stamps, Atty. George H. Bowman Jr., general chairman of the sesquicentennial committee, announced today.

The stamps, which sell for 35 cents for a 63-stamp sheet, will be sold by the Quota Club, with Miss Elizabeth Baker heading the sales committee, and the MCLIV's, a high school social group, with Miss Evelyn Camp of 970 Prospect St. heading the sales.

Bowman stated that the stamps are also still available at the Girl Scout office.

The stamps, used to advertise the city's celebration on mail, were designed by Henry F. Chatfield of 294 Brooklyn Ave. They bear a drawing representing the old city hall bell which presently stands at the entrance to Centennial Park.

Slaying Still Baffles Police

Few Clues Found To Killing Of Woman

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three weeks ago Mrs. Audry Pugh, wife of a Cincinnati printing executive, was found stabbed to death in her home in a fashionable Hyde Park neighborhood.

Since then, police have run down scores of clues and questioned numerous possible suspects—without getting a solid lead. City Safety Director Orris Hamilton now calls it "the most baffling murder in Cincinnati's history, bar none."

The safety director went even further and called it "the nearest to a perfect crime."

"But that doesn't mean we are giving up," he said. "We're working that much harder."

"Ellery Queen and Mary Roberts Rinehart together couldn't have written a greater mystery than this one," Hamilton continued.

Mrs. Pugh's husband, William W. Pugh, found his wife's body sprawled in a hallway of their home when he returned from his office on April 11. She had suffered multiple stab wounds. She was clad only in a robe and pajama tops.

Mrs. Pugh had complained that day of not feeling well and apparently had remained in bed during the day.

Both Pugh and his wife were members of prominent Cincinnati families. Relatives and friends said she was a devout church worker and police have been unable to turn up any evidence of enemies.

The officers have leaned to the theory that she heard a prowler and was stabbed to death when she went to investigate.

The Pugh home is at the end of a dead-end street and there is a heavily wooded area behind it.

One clue police still are working on is that a dark colored Studebaker automobile of about a 1947-48 model was seen on the street that day. It had a damaged fender. They have been checking all such cars in Cincinnati and Detective Chief Henry Sandman said Wednesday he had instructed detectives to call on all persons listed as owning cars of that make and model.

There are about 700 such Studebakers in Cincinnati, and owners of many of them already have complied with police requests to come in and have their cars cleared.

Couple Makes Final Appeal To Keep Child

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sklaroff have made a desperate appeal to Justice Felix Frankfurter of the U.S. Supreme Court.

They want him to stay a court order that would require them to return a 4-year-old boy they've raised from infancy to his natural parents by Saturday.

The Rhode Island Supreme Court ordered the transfer. Immediately afterward, the Sklaroff's attorney filed the appeal to Frankfurter in Washington. It's the latest move in a 30-month custody battle.

The youngster has ben living with the Sklaroffs since he was 3 days old. His natural parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Skeadas, are Catholic and the Sklaroffs Jewish, but the religious difference is not an issue in the case.

Wednesday, for the first time, little Freddie saw his natural parents, as he sat with his foster parents in the courtroom. For the Skeadases the sight of the boy undoubtedly brought back memories of the night when Freddie was exchanged between automobiles parked on a Lynn street — the last time they saw him until Wednesday.

Two years after that transfer, the Sklaroffs sought in Juvenile Court to adopt him. But Mrs. Skeadas, who was unmarried at the time of the birth but later married Skeadas, who claims to be the father, fought the adoption. The court ruled that she had not given her consent.

Back in the courts again, Superior Court granted the adoption petition, only to have the State Supreme Court overturn the decision and deny the adoption.

When the Sklaroffs failed to give up the child, the Skeadases brought the latest court action two weeks ago.

Rocket Fails To Set Record

Navy To Attempt Launching Again

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP)—Disappointed Navy scientists, despite a fizzle on their initial try, are planning another attempt at a new rocket altitude record next week.

The first production model of the Aerobee-hi plunged to earth in the southern New Mexico desert Wednesday after its main motors failed to fire.

The booster mechanism blasted the research vehicle to only 18,000 feet before it turned its nose down and hit the ground just a mile from the launching tower.

John W. Townsend, Naval Research Laboratory scientists in charge of the launching, said pending analysis of Wednesday's failure, the Navy still plans to fire an identical rocket here next Tuesday.

He indicated that next week's shot might lose its connection with the earth satellite program. He said he will consider removing from the rocket's instrument layout a preliminary version of the so-called Mini-track transmitter which will be used in radio tracking of the satellite when it is launched during the International Geophysical Year starting in 1957.

The scientists said he may consider removing other instruments to 'get all there is to get" out of the firing.

Just what caused the failure will not be known until after a close inspection of the rocket. Townsend said the main rocket motor never did start and preliminary examination of debris indicated there may have been a failure in the fuel system. He said more research and better design obviously are needed.

Cost of the abortive shot was estimated at $100,000.

Methodist Resolution Calls For End of Segregation In U.S.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Methodists Wednesday passed overwhelmingly a resolution urging elimination of the church's racially segregated administrative system "with reasonable speed."

The resolution also called on Methodists across the country to "work actively" to stamp out discrimination in all walks of life and asked pastors to admit members to churches "without regard" to color.

The action by the church's General Conference marked a major step against segregation in the 9½ million member church.

It was taken after a 20-minute discussion which centered mainly on the abolition—gradually—of the church's all-Negro jurisdiction.

This was the problem that stirred a prolonged heated debate Tuesday. A revised statement on the matter was presented today by a committee headed by Atty. Charles Parlin, Englewood, N. J.

It said that the church's principles oppose all forms of racial discrimination or enforced segregation and urged:

"That discrimination or segregation by any method or practice, whether by conference structure or otherwise in the Methodist Church be abolished with reasonable speed." The Rev. W. Sproule Boyd, Johnstown, Pa., who had offered a similar statement on the matter Tuesday which drew wide opposition, said he approved of the new version and felt it was "stronger and yet more acceptable."

Parlin said that the resolution, as such was not binding legislation but for the guidance of the church.

The racial segregation issue erupted Tuesday in a tumultuous session and brought delegates into today's meeting in a mood of high tension.

The Rev. Thomas O. Prewitt, Jackson, Miss., asked whether the resolution would be "mandatory on all ministers" to observe the principles it sets forth, and got the answer that it was only a recommendation to them.

Laying An Egg Makes Big News For Bird

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Josephine made big news in the zoological world Saturday when she laid an egg.

Supt. George Douglass of Audubon Park strutted like a new papa and told newsmen the event demonstrated that whooping cranes can breed in captivity.

Josephine and Crip, her mate, are two of the 28 whooping cranes remaining in the world, Douglass said, and the first to produce an egg in captivity.

Josephine added egg No. 2 to the nest Wednesday while a photographer was waiting around for a picture of the first.

Big New Idea

Secretary of State Dulles has sprung the big new idea whose absence his critics have been carping about.

They have been accusing him of lacking dynamic imagination. They have been saying he has been running back and forth like a one-man diplomatic fire department putting out grass fires, instead of plotting grand strategy for fire prevention.

U.S. foreign policy, they have pointed out, has been static, whereas the foreign policy of the Soviet Union has been progressive. The Soviet Union keeps breaking out with new moves like a baseball manager shifting a losing line-up. But the United States has been plugging away with the same old batting order.

The big new idea was sprung on the influential audience attending the annual luncheon of Associated Press in New York Monday —influential because its members include a large percentage of the publishers and writers of U.S. newspapers.

It is to develop the potentialities of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, an idea so big it may take a few weeks to comprehend its size.

NATO has been a military alliance up to this time. When Secretary of State Acheson in 1949 explained it to Congress and the nation, the possibility of a cultural and economic alliance of friendly powers scarcely was mentioned.

That is what Secretary Dulles thinks it is time to do now—to take up the unfinished business of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He will be accused of warming over an idea that turned cold. He will be accused of borrowing a point for foreign policy from the Truman administration. But such accusations are trifling, compared with the magnitude of the idea he has proposed.

NATO is dedicated to preserving "freedom, common heritage and civilization" of its members. That is an order large enough to absorb all the energies of the North Atlantic Community for the next century, if NATO members decide to work at it.

'Comes The Revolution'

This May day finds the old-time revolutionists so far out of step with the times they cannot stage a riot anywhere in the world.

Progress in human affairs has been moving at a pace too fast for their stuck-in-the-mud preachments about class warfare and bloodshed as the indispensable catalyst of revolution.

Comes the new revolution and the old-fashioned May day rioters will be forgotten. It won't be this kind of a revolution.

It will be made in U.S.A.—the copyrighted product that so far excels the brand favored first by the anarchists, then by socialists, then by Communists that no comparison is possible.

The revolution made in the U.S.A. gives the downtrodden the privilege of upgrading themselves by their own efforts. It proves what can be done when the energies of the masses are released for self-improvement.

It demonstrates the futility of authoritarian rule by giving the people, themselves, the right to throw out their own rascals. In the U.S.A., the people don't have to wait for death to lift an oppressive leader off their backs.

May day once was the property of rioters. Before the rioters, it was the property of revelers. Today. . . well, if the weather improves it will be a fine time to enjoy springtime.

Highways For Aviation

A statement by the executive director of the National Business Aircraft Assn. to the convention of Aircraft Owners and Pilots Assn. in Cleveland is so surprising in its implications it deserves special mention.

Some 20,000 planes owned and operated by 6,000 U. S. corporations, says the executive director, now fly more miles and employ more pilots than the country's airlines. The point he was making is that airports must take this growing business into account in planning their future operations.

But the point being led up to is infinitely larger—that airports must become less like specialized facilities for commercial aviation and more like public roads for general use.

They are points of arrival and departure not only for passengers on commercial planes but for all persons who use planes. In a manner of speaking, they are public highways for aviation.

Regarded in this light, they ultimately would be built and maintained on the same basis as public roads, through a combination of local, state and federal support.

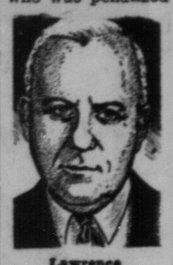
Yet, it seems like the day before yesterday when most airports were leveled-off cow pastures where an occasional pilot could drop out of the air for a tankful of gas and the time of day with the lonesome proprietor. In fact, it was the day before yesterday.

Reward For Courage

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Barkley Assured Niche In Hall Of Fame

The name of Alben Barkley may be inscribed in the hall of fame of American politics as the man who was penalized for his courage and who thereby lost a chance to be president of the United States.



Lawrence

Back in 1944, the then senator from Kentucky was the majority leader of the Senate and the spokesman for President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Democratic party in the Senate. There came a moment when, after many arduous weeks of work, Mr. Barkley had succeeded in getting through the Senate a tax bill which on all sides was deemed fair and constructive. But Mr. Roosevelt, who was looking toward the polls that year and was carrying on a demagogic appeal about 'soaking the rich," didn't like the bill and, much to the surprise of Congress, vetoed it. Mr. Barkley was stunned by the action, which he viewed as a repudiation of what he and other members of the Democratic party had worked for.

Resigning the majority leadership as a means of ascertaining whether the Senate wanted his views or those of the White House to prevail, Mr. Barkley was restored to the leadership post by an overwhelming vote. The tax bill itself was passed over the Roosevelt veto. Up to this time, Sen. Barkley had seemed logical for the vice-presidential nomination.

FDR NEVER FORGOT Sen. Barkley's defiance. When the time came for the selection of a vice-presidential nominee at the Chicago convention in the summer of 1944, the word was passed around that Mr. Roosevelt didn't favor Sen. Barkley. Everybody knew at that convention that FDR had not forgiven the Kentucky senator for his manifestation of independence. In FDR's book senators were "rubber stamps"—or else they lost his support. That's why he also carried on a feud with Sen. Walter George and tried to "purge" him, but without success.

The second instance in which Alben Barkley paid the penalty for his independence occurred during the 1952 national convention at Chicago when Sen. Barkley was ruled out of the race because of an alleged unfriendliness to labor. No accusation could be more preposterous, because, ever since the days when the railroad brotherhood unions won their first piece of important legislation, known as the Barkley law, the friendliness of the Kentuckian to organize labor was well established.

HERE IS THE STORY of what happened in 1952, as told by the senator on Aug. 4, 1955, during his last campaign for election to the Senate. He said:

"I arrived in Chicago on Friday before the convention was to meet on Monday. I was busy over television and radio. On Sunday night certain labor leaders who were at the convention gave out an announcement that they could not support Mr. Barkley because of his age, and the next night, on Monday night, after the convention met, Gov. Wetherby, Sen. Clements, Mr. Leslie Biffle, secretary of the Senate and a lifelong friend of mine, Mr. Jim Farley, whom you all know, and a number of other gentlemen came to my room to tell me that this announcement of the labor leaders had disrupted my campaign, caused many delegates in states with heavy labor votes to desert my banner as if they were rats leaving a sinking ship, and thot in all probability under those conditions, I could not be nominated, and that in their judgment it might be better for me to retire from the race while it looked like I might be nominated than to wait and be defeated on the floor of the convention.

"WE TALKED about i ta long time, and finally I accepted their advice. Whether that advice was wise is now immaterial. I accepted it. It might be that if I had it to do over I would not accept it. But I regarded the advice as being sincere, and made in good faith, and I retired, therefore, from the contest."

This writer, by coincidence, happened to be alone with the Kentucky senator that afternoon in 1942 and also on the day in 1944 when he issued his statement differing with FDR on the tax bill. Chagrin was written on his face, but he never whimpered. He had carried the ball valiantly in the Senate for FDR. He had gone down the line for labor, only to be tossed aside in favor of the radicals in the Democratic party who wanted someone closer to their ideology on other issues. Both disappointments left their mark. He could have busted things wide open with speeches of denunciation, but he preferred not to do anything to hurt his own party.

HAD ALBEN BARKLEY been on the ticket with Mr. Roosevelt in November 1944, it would have been the Kentucky senator rather than Harry Truman who would have had the chance to succeed to the presidency in April 1944.

Does it pay to be courageous? Alben Barkley will be remembered for his courage long after some of the others who attained higher honors are forgotten.

'Le Roi' Laments Role

LOUCECIENNES, FRANCE

A dwindling but still substantial number of Frenchmen scorn the French Republic as thoroughly illegal. To them, France's rightful ruler is a friendly, middle-aged man who bears an astonishing resemblance to Walt Disney.

Though the French haven't had a monarch in more than 85 years, "Vive le Roi" continues to be a slogan seen frequently chalked on walls and buildings. The "roi" referred to is 47-year-old Henri d'Orleans, the Count of Paris.

In something of the manner of a well-to-do gentleman farmer, the heir of nine centuries of French kings lives in this little village an hour's drive from Paris, ignored but not wholly forgotten by his countrymen.

He and his wife, called the prettiest princess in Europe when they were married 25 years ago, have 11 children ranging in age from 8 to 23.

They live a self-contained family life in their rambling country house. The count and his wife, also a d'Orleans by birth care very little for social life.

They were not invited to Grace Kelly's wedding, though compared to the Count of Paris, the Prince of Monaco is a relative newcomer among European royalty.

The count is not often invited to royal functions in other countries for fear of offending the French government. He smiles wryly and says that this saves him a good deal of trouble.

Before the war, the count and his family lived in exile in Belgium. His exile was required by law, but, in typical French style, it wasn't terribly strict. The countess and her children were allowed to come here whenever they wished to visit relatives and to shop.

When the war started, the count volunteered for the French army but was refused. Eventually, the French authorities relented to the extent of making him an intelligence agent in Italy and the Balkans. He collected information mainly through his extensive family connections. He finally got into uniform by enlisting in the Foreign Legion under a false name.

The count gives no aid or comfort to what is left of the royalist faction in French politics, a group that still wields some influence, especially in the church. For this, ardent royalists tend to look on him with some coolness.

They contend he should not have agreed in 1950 to give up political activity in return for being allowed to live in France.

But, for the count there could be little choice. 'I wanted my children to grow up as Frenchmen," he explained.

However, he, too, regrets being unable to participate in French political affairs, not as pretender to the throne but as a politician. He maintains a deep interest to the nation's political life. He was one of the first Frenchmen openly to denounce the Munich settlement before the war.

Such a career appears forever to be barred to him. After the invasion of North Africa in 1942, the count, then a member of the Foreign Legion, was talked of as a possible member of the Free French government. But nothing came of it.

He recalls that period wistfully now. 'It was probably my only real chance to do something for my country," he says.

"There Wasn't Much Meat on That"

Popularity Of The Foreign Service

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Back in 1951, only 693 Americans took written examinations for jobs in the State Department, but in 1955, the number rose to 7,402.

Sokolsky

When I came across this comparison, it occurred to me that the Foreign Service, which had had such a bad reputation for being a refuge for men and women of queer habits and queer ideas must have done a very thorough job of house-cleaning to make itself so attractive.

The Foreign Service has been more self - conscious than some other departments of government to rid itself of those who embarrassed their government either by their habits or their ideas. Scott McLeod, who is in charge of personnel and recruitment, has often been attacked but the justification for his work lies in the increasing popularity of State Department work as a career.

THE FIGURES indicate that young people who go in for the Foreign Service are either no longer kidded about the association or no longer mind it.

There has been too great an emphasis on scientific and engineering training for young people in this period when there is a great need for scientists and engineers. These things run in fashions. When I was at college long ago, law and medicine were the fashionable careers.

Nowadays the young fellows go in for science and engineering of one kind or another and although the colleges make a lot of noise about the humanities, the distribution of subjects and points is such that when a young fellow has taken his majors and the supporting subjects, he has little time left for an education.

He is being trained, not educated. He is being trained for a job, trained to earn a living not educated to think.

IT MUST BE a trying administrative problem in the universities to divide the time so that a scientist will also read history and philosophy and that a pre-med student will know something about government and economics and languages. It may, because of the tremendous volume of data in all scientific fields, become necessary to make the college courses five or six years instead of four, the first three years devoted to education and the last two or three to training.

Maybe this is impractical and too costly, but it also would appear to be impractical to put a man through four years of mostly specialized training with only a small dose of cultural courses. The proletarization of the college-educated citizen surely does not provide the leadership the country needs as much as it needs scientists and engineers.

The Foreign Service is recruited principally from men and women in the colleges who take cultural courses, have facility in foreign languages and who know something of history and literature.

IT IS A fairly pleasant way of life if one likes to travel, to live in unusual places, to cultivate good taste in food and wine and a capacity to converse in a mature manner on a variety of topics.

The temptations in such positions are greater than they used to be before espionage became an accepted process of diplomacy. But if one lives in a manner that does not lay him open to blackmail, it is not likely that the spies will get anything on him. The homosexual is always open to blackmail and has no place in government service.

Thus far, most of those in our Foreign Service or in the British, who got into trouble were homosexuals who were therefore subject to blackmail and blabbermouths who had to talk to prove their importance.

MOST OF THEM, I am told, were fired, although I should imagine that some are still around because it is impossible to get rid of those who are protected by politicians or powerful friends until they fall flat on their faces with a crash. Even so, Guy Burgess would get banged up in a fight with his gentlemen friends and nothing happened to him until he escaped to Russia and his affairs became public property.

On the whole, the career people in our Foreign Service are now of a strictly professional type. It can remain that way only if the personnel is closely watched and I would say that the exposures by congressional committees did a lot of good as the figures of recruitments show. It was the expansion of the department for war purposes that brought in most of the rot.

Monkeys Did It

By TRUMAN TWILL

The latest move to prove William Shakespeare was not the author of the plays he is credited with writing has fizzled.

This one was a tomb-opening that was expected to reveal manuscripts proving Shakespeare's plays were written by Christopher Marlowe, a poet who was a contemporary of Shakespeare. When the tomb was opened, nothing was revealed.

So the search will go on.

Even if something significant turns up, there still will be an argument. And the argument never can be settled because there is no way to establish the truth.

The only thing that keeps everything under the sun from turning into another Shakespearean controversy is the absence of challenge. You can close your eyes and make a blind selection of places where a ringing challenge would raise hob.

Take Beowulf, which most of us have heard mentioned as another standard name in English literature. Beowulf, it will be recalled, was a pre - Christian dreamboat who could do anything anyone else could do—better.

No one knows who started to write poems about this legendary character, so theorists have covered up their ignorance by saying the poems were passed along from generation to generation by word of mouth, until they finally were written down in the 8th century.

Posh. Beowulf was a figment of the hop-headed imagination of a hungry scribbler of obscure origin and unknown destination who hoaxed the public in or about the 8th century by turning out a fantastic poem which was just what the scholars needed for their theories about the English language. His own name was Frank Luther Woeb, so he called his fantasy 'Beowulf."

Or take Geoffrey Chaucer, another old-timer, who is credited with being the most important literary figure of his day, which was in the 14th century. He didn't write his own stuff. It was scratched out by a lush named Whittlesby, working under the pressure of having his drinks cut off if he fell behind the schedule set by his taskmaster, the aforesaid Chaucer.

In the knowledgeable set, Shakespeare never was credited with the Shakespearean plays nor Marlowe, either.

The plays were too good to have been written by any one man. They transcended the scope of human imagination and human knowledge. They had to have been writen by a cageful of monkeys who had been given an assortment of Guttenberg movable wooden type a pile of parchment and an ink supply.

As soon as the monkeys had discovered how to print, they began to print at random and the edited result was Shakespeare's plays. Many passages bear out the monkey theory. Like this one:

A sailor's wife had chestnuts in her lap, and munch'd, and munch'd, and munch'd. "Give me!" quoth I. "Aroint thee, witch!" the rump-fed ronyon cries. Her husband's to Aleppo gone, master o' the Tiger; But in a sieve I'll thither sail, And like a rat without a tail, I'll do, I'll do, and I'll do.

Everyone is entited to his own theory and monkeys made as much sense as Marowe. Anything makes as much sense as the idea that William Shakespeare, himself, wrote all that stuff—an ignorant slob who didn't have a college degree to his name.

So They Say

I never saw a single item (in Asia) by a Russian on military strength. They always write about peace. We (U.S.) talk war continually while the Russians talk peace. — Eric A. Johnston, special representative of the President, returns home.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

A Word For The Long Lost

The incredible has happened. A voice has been raised in public for the uncommon man! He hasn't been mentioned above a whisper in years. We thought he was unconstitutional. But a few days ago Crawford H. Greenewalt, du Pont executive, openly emphasized him as a fellow worth having around. This is highly dangerous. It can bring back respect for top ability, talent, wisdom, ambition, sweat and intense plugging, regardless of the clock. Is this safe in an age when we are all supposed to operate on the same level for the same rewards on the same wheel bases, and viewing life from the same size picture windows?

THE COMMON MAN, bless him, is the foundation of progress, and it's good to see him doing well, but it may be time the uncommon man got a good word, if not a pardon.

Mr. Greenewalt deplores the tendency to stiffle unusual ability. He says he had better begin to consider the lone individual "whose dreams waken him in the night while others sleep contentedly." This kind of talk could be what Jimmy Durante would call mutiny.

The uncommon man went out in the fireside chat together with the early bird. Horatio Alger and "The youth who bore mid snow and ice a banner with the strange device, 'excelsior.' "

-:-

FOR GENERATIONS in the American pattern the uncommon man got cheers, green lights and high respect. Kids patterning after him, put ability and struggle as top requirements for success and rarely heard "What's the bum got that the rest of us haven't got?" Then came the elevation of the common man, which was fine and inspiring. But it was too widely accepted as disqualifying the uncommon man. In many quarters he wasn't even eligible for a door prize at the bingo party. It became fashionable to look at the guy who founded the business and say "The punk just got the breaks, that's all." The idea came to be generally voiced that all men were common and should be kept that way by a carpenter's level, mirrors, revolutions, cocktail party harangues and political speeches.

FOR GENERATIONS the young had looked up to the rugged trail blazers, inventors and industrial pioneers and been inspired by the tales of their struggles to get there, but today there are men in their 30's who can't remember when "Aw, nuts!" wasn't supposed to be the right reaction to any mention of Americans who made it on a shoestring, struggled long weary years and sometimes came back to work after supper.

Ever since 1932, the uncommon man has been belittled, and made the butt of books, plays and vaudeville artists. It's even been bad taste to admit him to company clambakes and let him play the outfield in the game between the married and single men. We doubt his early return.

If you have "dreams that waken you in the night while others sleep contentedly," don't admit it. Mankind is supposed to have common dreams. They're compulsory and they're the one-level, non-awakening type. Contented sleep may be here to stay.

"U.S. TO REVISE bookkeeping methods"—headline. Getting it back where it resembles bookkeeping, perhaps.

Ima Dodo, who is a Dodger fan, thinks the name of that new musical is "The Most Happy Felton."

Under the new export rules it is okay to export bras and girdles to Russia. But why should we want to help the Soviets get into better shape? We notice that from now on American can also let Russia have "monochlorotrifluorethlene." Possibly to inspire a revolt led by proofreaders.

In The Stock Market

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—I met an interesting fellow the other day. He wasn't in the stock market.

You hardly run into that kind of person any more. At least not in my circle.

Practically everyone I seem to meet now is "in the market." So is his brother. So is his grandmother.

Baseball used to be the national pastime. Today the stock market is. You play baseball. But nobody admits he plays the market. It's not cricket to use that term. You don't play the market. You are just "in it."

Who really is in the market? well, I know a mechanic who is. I know several waiters who are. I know several stenographers who are. A lady who used to come and help my wife do sewing is. So is the masseuse my wife visits occasionally when she gets a twinge in her neckbone.

In fact, it is probably easier to name those of your acquaintance who aren't in the market than to list those who are. Wall Street has become the real Main Street of America to millions.

Now, don't get me wrong. I have nothing against the stock market as an avenue to either security or wealth. I don't regard it a devil's trap for the unwary, nor do I feel that anyone who invests in it is a gambler riding a hand wagon to his own ruin. All I ask is that those who are getting rich in it would just do so quietly.

But they don't. It isn't enough that they own stocks. They insist that you have to get into the market, too. Presumably, they feel that if everyone buys stocks all the stocks will go on up and up—and we'll all be rich together.

What a man did with his money used to be his own secret. Not any more.

"Just what do you do with your money?" strangers murmur to me at cocktail parties.

"Well some of it I use to light my cigars when I run out of matches," I tell them. "and if I have any left over I put it into U. S. bonds."

You'd think I was A Red conspirator trying to undermine the American way of life.

"U. S. bonds!" they yelp. "don't you know that at the end of 10 years you'll probably get less out of them, in terms of real money value, than you put into them?"

"Maybe," I admit. "But somebody has to keep poor old Uncle Sam from going over the hill to the poorhouse. If you won't do it, I'll have to."

This only seems to infuriate them.

The biggest objection I have to the stock market is not that I don't know how to get rich in it (if I did, I would) but that it has done more to ruin the art of conversation than anything since television.

The shop talk of the stock market, once limited to stock brokers and a limited class of customers, now is the shop talk of everyone from bricklayer to banker.

I don't understand the terms. The care and feeding of the bulls and bears is of limited interest to me. I'm not sure of the difference between a long-term capital gain, and an off-tackle smash with the fullback carrying the ball. To me a "blue chip" is still something I toss into the poker pot only when I'm holding four queens.

You can't get away from the stock market. If you're reading the sports page in the subway, the guy reading over your shoulder asks, "would you mind turning to the business section? I want to see how Amalgamated Tiddlywinks is doing."

You go to a party and say, "It looks like rain tomorrow," and a bystander breaks in and inquires anxiously, "How do you think that will affect Coagulated Copper, Ltd.?"

Coming home recently after an evening of such conversation, I told my wife, "Wasn't it boring? I'm glad I don't own a share of stock."

"What makes you think you don't, Rover?" replied Frances, who handles the family budget. Then she retreated into silence.

What I want to know is, can it be possible to be in the stock market—and not even know it?

Two Young Men Die In Auto Collision

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Two young men were killed late Wednesday night in an automobile collision on U.S. 22, 2½ miles southwest of nearby Morrow.

State highway patrolmen identified the dead as Eugene Boger, 23, of Lebanon and Carl Cheesman, 24, of near Lebanon.

Harley Combs, 19, of Morrow and Nancy Norman, 17, of South Lebanon, riding in the other car were injured seriously. They were taken to a Wilmington hospital, where their condition was reported as fairly good.

State Patrolman Frank Wyatt said the car driven by Boger apparently went out of control, hit a guard rail at the side of the highway and bounced back in the path of the car driven by Combs.

Ohio's Schools Face Shortage Of 1,800 Teachers Next Year

Ohio's teacher shortage is creating a major problem in the state's schools. The shortage is particularly acute in areas surrounding big industrial areas. In two articles, Columbus staffer Hal Paris discusses 1 the situation, and 2 what the state education department is doing about the problem. The first article follows.

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's schools may face a shortage of approximately 1,800 teachers next year.

An expanding school population, growing at a rate of 47,000 new students each year, is putting the pinch on the state's teaching force.

A state department of education official says Ohio's greatest need is for elementary teachers.

On the secondary level, says Harold J. Bowers, director of teacher training, shortages are principally in the fields of science mathematics, industrial arts, home economics, vocational agricultural, music and girls' physical training.

Bowers declared teacher shortages are being felt more in areas surrounding big industrial centers than in other sections of the state.

Butler and Hamilton counties, in particular, have been hard hit, Bowers said.

But the education official pointed out that Ohio does not stand alone in its teacher problem.

"The situation here is typical of the problems in other states," he said.

And, said Bowers, 1964 is the earliest Ohio can expect to achieve a balance between teacher supply and demand.

He said much has been done to improve the teacher's position in Ohio: "The state ranks seventh or eighth nationally in salaries paid to teachers. The average salary for all teachers in Ohio this year was about $4,217."

Bowers indicated this average is likely to jump upward between $200 and $300 next year.

Despite these improvements, he said, shortages still exist because of the growing school population and continued dropouts in the teaching ranks.

Statistically, Ohio will need 8,500 teachers for the 1956-57 academic year. But Bowers figures the state has a potential supply of only 6,700.

He explained the problem of supply and demand this way:

"Ohio will need 5,400 new teachers to replace those who are teaching now but will not be teaching next year."

Bowers said in the last 10 years, Ohio has lost 9.3 per cent of its teaching staff each year through retirements and dropouts. Many teachers are going into other fields.

"The state needs 1,500 additional teachers to handle 45,000 more students who will enroll in September and 1,600 more to fill supervisory positions."

That brings number of teachers needed next year to 8,500. Here's how Bowers breaks down the potential supply:

"We can count on 4,500 new teachers from the crop of June graduates coming out of Ohio colleges.

"It's safe to assume that 1,200 more will be obtained from other states. And, as many as 1,000 former teachers may return to teaching."

Bowers said the department of education is looking for ways to increase the teacher supply.

"We have urged superintendents to conduct intensive recruitment programs to get a higher percentage of high school students to train for the teaching field," Bowers said.

He added that presently, one out of every 11 high school seniors plans to teach. To meet the demand, one out of seven should prepare for teaching, Bowers said.

The education official stressed that superintendents have been cautioned against any expansion of school programs until teachers are available.

"We also have urged them to maintain the state's standard of certification. We want to exercise moderation in filling jobs. Hiring of unqualified persons will only lower our instruction standards."

He said the department is taking other steps in an attempt to cope with the teachers shortage.

Child Psychologist To Be PTA Speaker

Roberta Bergstrom, a consultant at Belfaire, a resident treatment center for children in Cleveland, will speak at a meeting of the Fourth Street Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday evening.

Miss Bergstrom, who received her medical degree from the University of Minnesota, specialized in child psychology at Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

She will show a movie entitled, "From the Social Sixes to the Noisy Nines," after which she will lead in a group discussion centered around the theme, "Normal Problems of Growth and Development."

Because of the interest in these topics among parents, other PTA groups in the city are invited, as well as the general public.

County 4-H Dairy Club To Hold Discussion

LISBON—The Columbiana County 4-H Dairy Club will meet Monday evening at 8 at the Village Hall. A panel discussion will be held on "The Feeding and Management of the Dairy Herd."

Panel members are: Dwain Hawkins, New Waterford; C. E. Motts, Homeworth; and W. W. Baughman, New Waterford. Robert E. Teale, associate county agent, advised that membership in this club has been extended through the date of this meeting.

MAN DIES IN CRASH

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Clarence C. Canter, 25, a factory worker, was killed Wednesday when his car left a curve of U. S. 6 west of here. Two witnesses told police he was racing with another car at a sped of about 90 miles an hour.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

This column has been prepared by Victor Riesel's staff after a bedside conference with the injured columnist, whose future vision is still very uncertain.

There's a new line paralleling Mason-Dixon — a Commie line aimed at colonizing key southern communities and unions and infiltrating political clubs. It is a directive which is stripping highly trained agents from their current assignments in the north and transplanting them south for future action.

Victor Reisel

Already the party has reached its cadres in the teamsters, butchers, furniture workers, paper workers, woodworkers, packinghouse workers, hotel and restaurant employes, textile workers and garment workers unions and assigned them to special posts in the embattled southland.

The comrades are set to duplicate the tactic that enabled them to capture scores of key posts in the old CIO when John L. Lewis first set it in motion back in 1936.

THE GIMMICK is to have specially-briefed people on the scene, ready and willing to do the "dirty work" necessary for important political campaigning or mass unionizing drives.

John L. fell for this line and it took the anti - Communist CIO leadership 15 years to wipe out the pockets of subversion that had been created. It is the same strategy that gave a ready-made apparatus to Harry Bridges when he tried to capture control of Hollywood studio unions — and almost succeeded — in the mid-forties.

The new directive pulls people out of some of the unions the party once controlled entirely or in part.

Latest directive from the Soviet's secret agents in charge of post-Stalin activity here calls for intensifying propaganda on the community level as well as inside labor. It tells party members that:

"It is clear that the organizing drive in the South, to succeed, must be a political and social movement as well as an economic movement."

THE COMRADES were also told to "develop legislative action through whatever channels available . . ." This call for infiltration of non-Communist groups is coupled with specific directives "to enroll in Democratic clubs in all areas."

In the South this could pay particular dividends if the "regular" Democrats there bolt the Chicago nominating convention. Control of the formal machinery of the southern Democratic party will then be up for grabs and the Kremlin's "carpet - grabbers" will be reaching fast — and perhaps first.

The party is also dispatching trusted personnel to work "in church groups, YMCA's and YWCA's, Lions Clubs, Elks Clubs, the NAACP, on southern campuses" and in other civic and labor organizations.

Much of this phase will be directed by ostensible representatives of "front" groups such as the Commie-controlled "Sobell Defense Committee" which recently opened offices in six southern cities to speak a drive for the release of the convicted atomic spy now in Alcatraz.

THE COMMUNISTS also have been ordered to step up their special schooling for future agents in the southern infiltration operation. The propaganda chiefs decided that:

"To grapple with such questions in a mature and sure-handed way, the masses of our members must achieve mastery of the theoretical and tactical principles which underlie the program of our party. This means STUDY — systematic study.

"Such study and discussion must come to be the life - blood every club, section and regional committee. There must be increased self-study by individual comrades. And there must especially be fuller use of . . . the Jefferson School of Social Science."

Here then is the specific implementation of the new line in the South. But while they are concentrating on work among the Negros at the moment for political purposes, the party leaders have their eyes on future unionizing drives in the South.

THEY ARE AWARE of the rapid industrialization of the South. They know that industry sources expect upwards of 3,000 new major plants below the Mason-Dixon line in the next decade. And they know that sooner or later the AFL-CIO —now totally bogged down in the South because of the racial issue— will have to launch huge campaigns for new members.

When that time comes, they will be there with their "sleepers" on the scene, ready and willing to "do the dirty work" again as they did when John Lewis fell for the same gimmick and intrenched them deeply inside labor.

Says He Was Only Trying To Help By Stoning Nuns

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Thomas Dawson, 39, says he was only trying to help when he threw a rock at two nuns.

He told City Judge Charles Sneddon he tossed the rock because the women were checking their gas tank to see if it was full and had just struck a match to see better.

"I wanted to warn them of the danger," he said. "It was quite a large rock. It was the only one I could find. It missed the car and struck a man who was quarreling with his wife. The rock glanced off his head and through a grocery store window."

At this, Dawson said, the man got "upset and came over to make trouble."

Judge Sneddon sentenced Dawson to 30 days in city jail on a disorderly conduct charge.

Rules Against Back Payments For Jobless

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has ruled out the possibility that 80,000 Ohioans who were jobless in mid-1949 might have a few more dollars each coming to them in unemployment compensation benefits.

BUC officials said between three and four million dollars was involved in a dispute over jobless claims stemming from the Legislature's change in the law effective Aug. 22, 1949.

Julius Jaskiewicz of Cleveland filed for benefits about seven weeks before the law increasing payments was effective. He went to court after a BUC referee and the BUC's Board of Review turned down his demand to share in the increase. Cuyahoga County courts upheld the refusal and the Supreme Court Wednesday did likewise.

Attorneys said a decision in Jaskiewicz' favor would have affected thousands of claimants who were receiving benefits at the time the change became effective as well as hundreds of employers contributing to the benefit fund.

In another action, the high court refused to upset the conviction of Buddy Fares of Youngstown on a charge of malicious libel of Edward J. Allen, a former Youngstown police chief. Allen, who later became state enforcement chief of the Liquor Department, now is police chief at Santa Ana, Calif. The libel case stemmed from an account in a Youngstown shopping guide claiming members of Allen's vice squad were linked with gamblers.

Psychiatrist Says 20% Have Hidden Epilepsy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A psychiatrist says 20 per cent of the U. S. population may be suffering from "hidden epilepsy."

Many persons who have momentary mental blackouts or dimouts may be suffering from the disorder, Dr. Charles L. Yeager of the University of California said.

Fidgety children and adults who complain of nervous disorders are likely to have the ailment, he said. Mostly it is nondisabling, but in some instances it can develop into little attacks of real epilepsy, he told the California Medical Assn.

Brain wave recordings can disclose the condition, he said.

Charge Against Lisbon Man Dismissed Here

Drunk driving charges against Robert Finch, 33, of Lisbon were dismissed for lack of evidence in Mayor Dean B. Cranmer's court Wednesday night. Finch was arrested by city police April 21 and pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Lester Johnson, 53, of Beaver Dam, Ky., was fined $25 and costs for overload by Mayor Cranmer.

Goshen School Style Show Opens Tonight

The home economics class of the Goshen Union High School will present a style show tonight and tomorrow night in the school gymnasium. Every member of the class of 108 girls and six boys will model clothes they have made. In addition, 14 little children also will model. Tickets will be available at the door.

Mrs. Virginia Israel, a former model has conducted modeling classes for the participants. Miss Daisy Stackhouse is teacher and advisor of the class.

The gymnasium will depict a garden featuring a fountain in the center, a beach scene at one end, and a 30-by-nine-foot Florida scene painted by James Weingart, a 1955 graduate of Goshen Union High School. Barbara Weingart will serve as mistress of ceremonies.

The six boys in the class will model shirts and beach clothes. Other garments to be modeled include pajamas, housecoats, old fashioned clothes (with a high wheeled bicycle) to show the contrast with the present day styles; pencil slim jumpers, blouses, skirts, cotton dresses, tailored coats and suits, beach wear, formal gowns and afternoon dresses.

Thirty-seven seventh graders will display crocheted rugs, pot holders, and dish cloths.

The program will conclude with a flower drill at the fountain.

At tonight's show, eighth grade girls from Knox Township School and from all the schools in the new Mahoning Local district and members of the home economics class of Sebring High School will be in attendance.

of a letter to the Council president and was dated May 2 at Jerusalem.

In addition to giving the background of the Security Council resolution which sent him on his mission, Hammarskjold said that the task had been such he was not able fully to observe the time limit. He said the need first of all had been to "try to stop the dangerous developments which dominated the situation in the region on my arrival."

Diplomats here said they believed he had successfully lowered tension in the area.

In Jerusalem, Hammarskjold had a final meeting with Israeli officials in Premier David Ben-Gurion's office.

The secretary general is heading for home today by way of Cairo and Rome. A squabble over water rights on the Jordan threatened his mission, but he received tentative pledges from Syria, Jordan and Lebanon earlier to help stop the border shooting.

A high Israeli official earlier denied a published report Israel had promised not to resume work on the Jordan River diversion in order to obtain Syrian consent to a cease-fire.

The cease-fire agreement has to be unconditional with Syria in the same way as it is unconditional with Egypt, he said.

It is understood this question did not come up at today's Jerusalem meeting.

However it was reported Israel earlier had informed Hammarskjold Israel feels authorized to restart work in the demilitarized part of the Jordan Valley "at any time she deems appropriate."

Israel and Egypt also agreed to the establishment of U.N. observation posts and mobile patrols along the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip, scene of the most serious recent Arab-Israeli outbreaks, and to an expansion of the U.N. observer force in the troubled area.

En route to Rome, the secretary general planned a 12-hour stop in Cairo. A spokesman said he might talk again with Egyptian leaders, presumably about technicalities of enforcing the armistice along the Gaza Strip.

From Rome, Hammarskjold planned to cable the security Council another interim report on his findings. He is slated to draw up his final report in New York next week.

Despite a hurried round trip to Damascus Wednesday Hammarskjold was unable to get a pledge of an unconditional cease-fire from Syria. The Damascus government promised to abstain from hostilities only so long as Israel observes Security Council resolutions, and particularly a 1953 resolution which called on her to suspend work — pending an "urgent" council examination — on a project to divert waters of the river Jordan for power and irrigation.

Lebanon and Jordan have taken the same position in their talks with Hammarskjold.

Israel was as adamant. An Israeli spokesman said his government feels free to resume the project at any time since the work would be carried on inside Israeli territory.

Israel, meanwhile, released a Dutch-owned, Egyptian-chartered Dakota plane forced down by Israeli airmen at Lydda Airport nearTel Aviv Monday. The Israelis also released the five-man Dutch crew.

Violence Takes 33 Lives In North Africa

MARRAKECH, Morocco (AP) — Rioters armed with guns, knives and torches raged through this region again today. The number of slain climbed to 33 in two days. A score of houses were set afire.

Most of thevictims were Moroccan followers, friends or relatives of the late Thami El Glaoui, pro-French pasha (governor) of Marrakech and leader of southern Morocco's Berber tribesmen.

In Rabat, Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef called a special overnight Cabinet meeting on the outbreak. The interior minister, vice premier and director of police were sent here to investigate.

French troops from Rabat and smaller cities were posted around the Medina (native quarter) of Marrakech. Firemen sped to the quarter, and local police were ordered to shoot looters.

But the pillage and massacre went on. Just what set off the attacks was not clear.

Thami El Glaoui died in his moorish palace here Jan. 23 after an operation for cancer of the stomach. He was 78 and had had a long and turbulent career.

Curtis Taylor and Mrs. Raymond Sinclair of Cadiz visited with their sister, Mrs. Nellie Sinclair, Sunday.

Those attending the annual inspection of Betsy Ross Chapter, Order of Eastern Star at Salineville on Monday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pelley, Mrs. Robert Ward, Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. Harry Myers, Mrs. Ruth Burford, Mrs. Alma Wilson and Paulina Sloss.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Yeager have moved into their newly purchased home on Route 9 formerly owned by Norman Stroup.

Mrs. Kathryn Draper entertained Thursday in honor of her daughter Debra's third birthday. The eight little guests brought gifts for the honoree and lunch was served by Mrs. Draper.

TO GET HEARING FRIDAY

Robert L. Hillgreen, 63, of Alliance posted a $50 bond for an appearance before Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Friday night on charges of defrauding a tavern owner. Hillgreen was arrested by city police at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday after he allegedly left a Pershing St. bar without paying his bill.

TO PRESENT PROGRAM

LISBON — A "finishing up" projects program will be presented at a meeting of the Franklin Township home demonstration group on Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George McPherson of Hanoverton. All attending are to bring a coverdish and their own table service.

Weather Blamed For Slowing Some Lines Of U. S. Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) —May finds many businessmen again reassessing their prospects because for some of them April was disappointing.

It has been a year of wide swings in business sentiment. At the start they were cautious about expecting too much of 1956. Then along in March there was a quick shift to swelling confidence in the future of trade and industry.

Now there are some sober second thoughts. April didn't bring the gains that some industries expected.

Some of the big retail chains report a drop in sales. The auto industry is cutting back output still farther as cars fail to move out of the dealers' hands as hoped.

The weather gets much of the blame. In the eastern third of the nation April was unseasonably wet and cold. In other parts of the land there was a disturbing drought.

Farmers, already hit by a drop in prices for their products, now face the chance of a drop in production as well — with government surpluses acting as a ceiling on any substantial price rises.

Farm machinery makers, helped in many instances by defense production, reported good earnings in the first months of the year. But their sales to income - pinched farmers are lagging now.

If May brings better weather, aids the farmers, spurs car buyers, sends more customers into the stores for spring and summer goods, the picture could change to general confidence again.

As it is, many industries are booming while the others falter. Construction totals are up, bolstered by business spending for new plants, new commercial and office structures, as well as a growing total of public construction of roads, schools and hospitals.

Larger and more expensive homes are being built, and better weather may start total residential building on the upgrade again.

The railroads got a freight rate hike in March and start May with increased passenger fares — accounting for the increased interest in rail stocks.

The steel industry continues to operate near capacity — but with sentiment divided as to how much of a let down, if any, the summer will see.

May could also reveal more clearly how much inventory building is being done by steel users, how great a chance there is of a strike this summer, how much wages and prices are likely to rise — and what's the chance of this setting a pattern for other industries.

Inflation, meanwhile, is likely to be the big debating point of the month. Slowing rising prices of most things other than food, and a continuing strong demand for loans, make investors, lenders, borrowers and the money managers nervous.

LeMay To Tell Bomber Needs

To Relate How U. S. Can Meet Red Buildup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said today Gen. Curtis LeMay has promised "to spell out in a complete package" what his Strategic Air Command needs to offset Soviet Russia's expanding air might.

"This will be for the benefit of the Senate subcommittee and will not be cleared through Pentagon channels," Jackson said in an interview. He is a member of a Senate Armed Forces subcommittee studying relative U.S.-Russian air power.

LeMay, cigar - chewing commander of the globe-girdling U.S. bomber force, made it plain in previously censored public testimony Wednesday and Monday that he wants more jet B52 bombers as quickly as possible.

Completing more than a week of testimony, he disclosed late Wednesdy that out of 78 heavy B52 bombers produced to date, only 47 were immediately accepted by the Air Force.

Other Air Force officers said a defect in the bombers' complex electrical system had caused the rejections and grounding of all B52s after a crash last year. LeMay said the defects are being corrected and the jet bombers put into operation.

Jackson said additional B52s are needed to increase SAC's striking power, but he added:

"We must also have trained crews, more bases, additional air tankers, including jet tankers, for the complete program."

Bird Club Meeting, Field Trip Planned

Dr. G. W. Richter of Canfield will be program chairman when the Salem Bird Study Club meets at 8 p.m. Friday at the Memorial Building. His discussion will concern "The Ornithological Studies to be Made at Nesting Sites."

On Sunday the May field trip will be taken to Mill Creek Park. Members will meet at 2 p.m. at the suspension bridge, one-half mile north of the old mill.

Directions for reaching the meeting place are as follows: Turn left into the park immediately after crossing the high level bridge over Mill Creek on Routes 62 and 625; at each fork in the park bear left. Persons wishing to leave from the Memorial Building will meet there at 1:15 p.m.

Weather permitting, a wiener roast will be held at the conclusion of the field trip. Mrs. William C. Baker will be leader.

Driver Safety Meeting Is Set Here Tonight

LISBON — The second meeting of a drivers traffic safety program sponsored by the Nationwide Insurance Co. and geared to Columbiana County's 16 - to 25 year old driver policy holders, will be held in the Methodist Church at 8 p.m.

G. V. Winestock, Nationwide's Columbiana County district sales manager, is chairman of the young drivers project.

The following men will participate in the program: Charles F. Billman and D. J. Smith of Salem; O. Dale Mason and Stanley Kienzle of Lisbon and John Q. Covert of East Liverpool.

MAY GET $100,000 — William F. Friedman, above, has been identified as the government's top expert on codes and secret cryptographic devices who would get a $100,000 reward under a bill passed by the Senate and sent to the president. The reward is intended to offset some of the profits that Friedman, inventor and communications expert, might have collected if the government had not monopolized his numerous devices. He is shown at his Washington, D. C., home.

Man Convicted Of Slaying Wife

Jury Takes 48 Hours To Reach Decision

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Almost 48 hours after it received the case, a district court jury Wednesday night convicted James V. Alexander, 48, of second degree murder in the death of his second wife, Barbara, 24.

The body was dug from the basement floor of Alexander's home nearly 2½ years after she disappeared.

The husky former Casper, Wyo., school teacher faces a penalty of 20 years to life in prison.

Alexander appeared stunned and solemn as Dist. Judge Sam Thompson read the verdict at 10:02 p.m. (MST) to conclude a 15-day trial.

Natrona County Prosecutor Raymond Whitaker had asked the death penalty shortly before the jury of seven men and five women was given the case. Alexander was charged with first degree murder.

Fred Layman, a defense lawyer, moved that the verdict be set aside. Judge Thompson was expected to rule on this motion and to sentence Alexander today.

Layman told reporters he would appeal the conviction to the Wyoming Supreme Court.

At prosecution request, trial of Alexander's first and present wife, Rose, was continued from next Monday until the fall term of court.

Rose was not present to hear her husband convicted. Now free on $10,000 bond, she also is accused of first degree murder in Barbara Alexander's death.

Barbara's body was unearthed last Dec. 6 from a concrete tomb in the basement of the Casper home. At a coroner's inquest and again as a defense witness for her husband, Rose testified Barbara died July 18, 1953, in an accidental fall.

Rose said she buried Barbara and the grave was cemented over by Alexander. Both claimed he was unaware of the tragedy until Casper police discovered the young mother's remains.

Whitaker charged the husky, balding defendant beat Barbara to death in a jealous rage.

Mullins Merger To Be Defended

American Standard Reports Sales Up

NEW YORK (AP)—American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp. will vigorously defend its merger with Mullins Manufacturing Corp. against an anti-trust suit brought by the Department of Justice, Joseph A. Grazier, president, told the annual meeting Wednesday.

Grazier declared the company was confident of winning its fight but he said he regretted 'the waste of time, effort and money."

American-Standard, even before its merger last Jan. 30 with Mullins, producer of Youngstown Steel Kitchens, was the nation's biggest manufacturer of plumbing and heating equipment.

Grazier reported American-Standard had first-quarter sales of $96,132,414 compared with $91,082,517 for the year ago period which included Mullins sales.

First - quarter net income amounted to $4,431,150, equivalent to 37 cents a share compared with $4,545,557 or 38 cents a share in the first three months of 1955. Grazier said the slight decline in earnings stemmed from slightly higher operating expenses.

"Prospects for the balance of this year are very favorable," Grazier said. "At the close of the first quarter, our backlog of orders was substantially higher than a year ago. We expect contract awards for both residential and non-residential building to remain strong and provide a solid base for a high volume of construction activity."

A suit against the merger of American-Standard with Mullins was filed last month by the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice.

Grazier said the company and outside experts had studied the proposed merger with Mullins very carefully before directors decided it violated no anti-trust laws.

"As is common in litigation of this type," Grazier said, "this suit is apt to be dragged out for years. Our concern is not really at the outcome, but at the waste in time, effort and money which should be put to more constructive uses."

Cedar Point Sold; Homes To Be Built

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Cedar Point was sold Wednesday, and the new owners plan to build 1,000 ranch houses for year-round occupancy on the 400-acre finger of land jutting into lake Erie.

A snydicate headed by George A. Roose of Toledo bought a controlling interest in the famed old resort, including the Breakers Hotel, amusement park, and causeway to Sandusky. The price was not disclosed, but it was in the millions.

The Roose group bought a substantial interest in the G. A. Boeckling Co. of Sandusky, which owned Cedar Point, and a majority block of common stock held by the Central National Bank of Cleveland as trustee for the late George A. Boeckling and his sister, Miss Elizabeth Boeckling.

The new owners said they plan no changes in management of the resort. The resort, including the hotel, is under lease to a firm headed by Daniel Schneider.

"We believe it an ideal location for a home development of the kind we propose, which will be patterned after the residential area of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.," Roose said.

Difference In Ranks Brings On Divorce

CHICAGO (AP)—The difference in their ranks rankled her Air Force husband, said an ex-WAC sergeant Wednesday, in winning a divorce on grounds of desertion.

Mrs. June Fishbein, 27, said her husband James, 24, deserted her because he claimed she was always "pulling rank" and running their house 'like the Army."

When they wed in Japan Oct. 28, 1954, James was a private and she was a sergeant, Mrs. Fishbein told Judge Harry G. Hershenson in Superior Court.

He was so ashamed of his lower rank, she said, that he refused to go on a honeymoon with her. He left her Dec. 2, 1954, she said.

Fishbein now is a corporal stationed at Tandayll Air Base, Florida.

Mrs. Fishbein said she was discharged from the WAC shortly before birth of their daughter, Casey Elizabeth.

Fishbein's father, Harry, an East St. Louis, Ill., attorney represented him in court. The judge directed that Fishbein suppert the child.

48 Players Used As Giants Defeat Cubs 6-5 In 17 Inning

New York's 25 Breaks Record

Eight Giants Pitch; Hoak Fans Six Times

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Bill Rigney of the New York Giants is only a rookie major league manager, but he has already outdone his illustrious predecessor Leo Durocher in the art of juggling players.

Rigney masterminded the New York Giants to a 6-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs in 17 innings Wednesday by using a record 25 players, a major league record. The Cubs tossed in 23 to set a total record of 48 players, wiping out the old big league mark of 42.

The best Leo the Lip, then manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, could do was use 24 players in 1948. But that only duplicated a feat by Pittsburgh in 1940.

Rigney, who called it a "big" victory, used all but two players, Jim Hearn and Ramon Monzant. "That's as far as I was going," Rigney said. "Hearn pitched Tuesday and Monzant went all the way Sunday and his arm was stiff. I might have tossed Monzant in the outfield if something happened but not to pitch."

The marathon tied and neared other records. The Giants used eight pitchers to tie a National League record. Cub third baseman Don Hoak struck out six times tying the major league record, and the 5 hours 13 minutes it took to play fell only 6 minutes short of another major league mark.

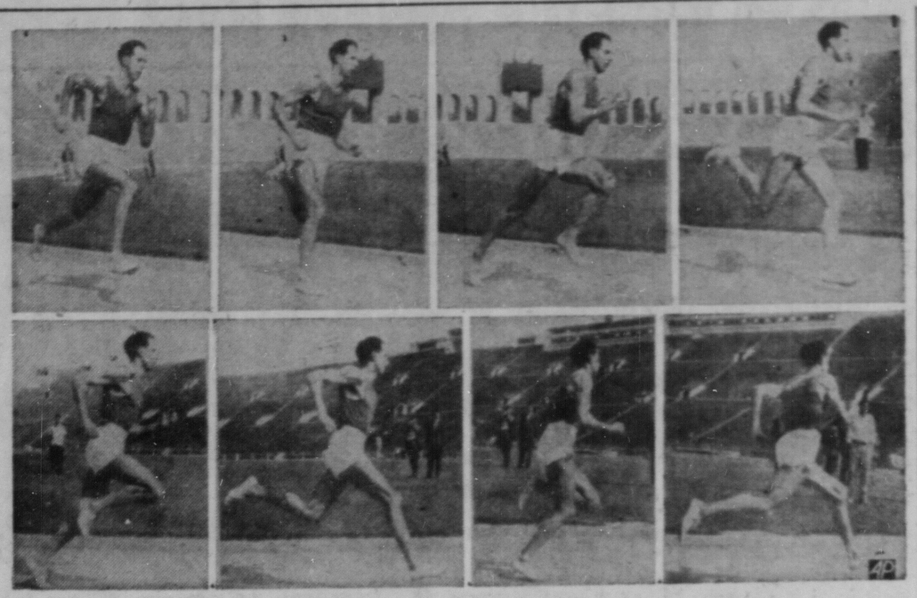
Whitey Lockman of the Giants was shifted from left field to first base, went back to left field and finished at first while Monte Irvin of the Cubs entered the game in the seventh inning faced five different pitchers in five trips to the plate, and went hitless.

'Sure it was a big victory," reiterated Rigney. "When you win a game with everyone in it, it gives the club a lift. They all feel they had a part in it. But if you lose a game like that its a severe jolt."

Rigney couldn't find enough words to praise second-baseman Daryl Spencer, hitting star of the game. Spencer, who won the game with a sacrifice fly, also had a triple, a homer and two singles.

"He's been terrific, I've always liked him," said the bubbling manager. "He's determined and strong. He recently found himself at second base. I mean he got the feeling of the position and the timing and its showing in his hitting. He's just great."

Rigney is well-satisfied with the Giants. "Pitching is going to win the pennant and to tell you the truth I'm tickled with ours. It's coming along real good. And when Muller (Don) and Mays (Willie) start hitting, we'll be real tough." Neither Mueller or Mays got a hit in Wednesday's game.



LANDY DEMONSTRATES FORM IN LOS ANGELES WORKOUT—Australia's John Landy, holder of world record mile time — 3 minutes and 58 seconds—, shifts into high gear as he rounds curve at Los Angeles, Calif., Coliseum where he will attempt to become first man to crack four-minute mile on American soil. Race will be run Saturday.

Garcia To Hurl Against Orioles

Indian Reliefers Get Little Work So Far

BALTIMORE (AP) — So far this season being a Cleveland Indians' relief pitcher is a role somewhat akin to that George Ratterman has played in the last several years as understudy to quarterback Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns.

The mound crew firemen have ben seeing the action from the bench as Tribe regulars have finished complete games eight times in 12 starts.

Of the seven Cleveland relief hurlers, two haven't thrown a pitch yet for the record—rookie Buddy Daley and Jose Santaigo. Three others—Art Houtteman, Sal Maglie and Don Mossi — have worked only one inning each. Cal McLish has thrown two innings in two games and Ray Narleski has been the relief "workhorse" by pitching in four games for a total of 6 2-3 innings.

General Manager Hank Greenberg, with the club in the east, hopes to arrange for disposing of at least six of the men now on the Cleveland roster within the next two weeks. It is a certainty at least two of those to go will be picked off the bullpen bench, with Maglie, Santiago and McLish having most cause to be uneasy.

Tonight, Mike Garcia will be pitching the opener of a three-game series against the last-place Baltimore Orioles who are using southpaw Bill Wight (0-3).

In both of Garcia's two previous starts, he failed to finish and at least two men got out of the Tribe bullper for some action.

Rain spoiled Wednesday night's scheduled contest betwen Cleveland and Washington.

$2,000 Purse Offered For Canfield Race

The $2,000 purse offered by Manager Charlie Findlay is expected to lure an exceptionally large field to the late model race opener at Canfield Speedway Saturday night.

At least five drivers from Indianapolis and several more from Cincinnati, Akron, and Cleveland are invading Canfield for the eight-race card.

Included are four heat duels, the Australian pursuit, two semifeatures and a 25-lap feature. In all nearly 100 laps of racing will be offered on the quarter-mile oval.

Hal Boosinger of Cleveland is the first out of towner to send in his entry. He will be driving a 1951 Oldsmobile.

Many of the veterans who have long been favorites are entered. They include five-time national champion Mike Klapak of Warren, 1955 MARC title-holder Roy Gemberling of Kent, Mike Little of Johnstown, Pa., Gib Orr of Cuyahoga Falls, Bob Greer of Hubbard and Bill Forney of Boardman.

The late model race is a new division this year. Only cars made from 1948 to 1954 are eligible, and this should provide plenty of speed and excitement.

At least 35 to 40 cars are expected to be on hand for the opening program of the 1956 season at Canfield. Time trials start at 7 p.m. and first event at 8:30 p.m.

Ben A. Jones Given Only Outside Chance In Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (—Ben A. Jones, the horse not the trainer, is given only an outside chance to win Saturday's $125,000 added Kentucky Derby.

The son of Faultless, owned by Dr. J. J. Gregory and H. D. Maggio of Chicago, is quartered in stall protected by a screen fence. That's the way Ben A. Jones, the trainer, used to keep spectators away from such stars of his as Citation and Whirlaway.

Marciano Returns Home to Retirement

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—Rocky Marciano returns home today to one last full-throated reception by friends and neighbors before slipping into the quiet life of a retired heavyweight boxing champion.

Though Brockton's favorite son announced he was quitting the ring and his title almost a week ago, the folks in this industrial city some 30 miles south of Boston want to make it "official" with a parade and all the trimmings.

There have been other celebrations for Marciano by those who watched the Champ batter his way through 49 professional fights from crude beginnings to become history's only unbeaten heavyweight.

They turned out in huge numbers to welcome him after his conquests of Rex Layne and Joe Louis on the way up the ladder and his storied comeback-knockout of Jersey Joe Walcott to win the championship.

But today Brockton says welcome back to the usually gentle 33-year-old son of an immigrant shoemaker while playing tribute to the dedicated man who punched his way from obscurity to world fame.

Sloppy Track Possible For Kentucky Derby

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A slowly run Kentucky Derby Saturday was a possibility today as the weatherman threatened to confuse even more a race in which every top contender is a come-from-behind performer and an early speed horse is hard to find.

The Churchill Downs' racing strip was still sloppy this morning from Wednesday's intermittent rains. The weatherman forecast more of the same tonight.

At least seventeen 3 - year - olds and possibly one more were expected to be entered for the 82nd running of the mile-and-a-quarter classic. That would mean a record-shattering purse of $167,400 with a net of $123,300, also a new high, going to the winner.

Actually, the field will be reduced by at least one regardless of track conditions. And it could well be that another owner or two will change his mind about posting the $1,250 starting fe after paying $250 to enter. He has until 45 minutes before post time to make up his mind.

Trainer Syl Veitch said C. V. Whitney's Carer Boy, one of the favorites, will not be in the post parade if the going is muddy.

Odie Clelland wants no part of the race for Mrs. Helen Kellogg's Come On Red if the racing strip is fast. And there is a possibility Jimmy Jones will withdraw Pintor Lea if the track is real bad rather than risk a more serious injury of a wrenched knee, which had threatened to keep him out of the Derby.

Withdrawal of Pintor Lea would place the burden for a sixth Derby triumph by the Calumet Farm, now owned by Mrs. Gene Markey, on Fabius, winner of the Derby Trial Tuesday.

Almost to a man the experts forecast a slow first half, with none of the well-regarded horses willing to set the early pace and then a cavalry charge through the last quarter-mile.

One thing is sure, they'll be watching Needles, the 2-1 favorite from the Florida-owned D. & H. Stable of Bonnie Heath and Jack Dudley, when he starts running from behind at the top of the stretch.

Joe Brown Decisions Wallace Bud Smith

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Joe Brown did not get the knockout he had predicted but he believes his unanimous decision over lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith has earned him a rematch for the title.

Brown, 29-year-old Negro from New Orleans, used a vicious right, a strong left and a sharp defense Wednesday night in scoring a popular decision over the champion in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Sam Houston Coliseum.

Brown was not damaged. Smith, losing his third straight overweight fight, received a cut lip and a swollen left eye. Smith was 8½ pounds over the 135-pound lightweight limit. Brown weighed 139

Sauer Injured By Flying Bat

Outfielder Suffers Concussion, Cuts

By JIM VANVALKENBURG

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"The bat just slipped."

This was all an upset Walker Cooper could bring himself to say in explaining the freak accident which felled veteran Hank Sauer of the St. Louis Cardinals before Wednesday night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The 37-year-old outfielder suffered a severe brain concussion, a 3-inch cut of the lip and his left ear was almost torn off by the flying bat which struck him as he stepped out of the batting practice cage.

Dr. I. C. Middleman, club physician, said he took 12 stitches in Sauer's lip, "about 50" on the ear. He also did plastic surgery on the ear.

Middleman said a preliminary examination of X-ray film indicated there was no skull fracture but Sauer will remain in the hospital for observation.

It was a typical pre - game scene.

Sauer stepped out of the cage and the 41-year-old Cooper stepped in.

On the first pitch, Cooper's bat slipped and struck Sauer in the head. The angular 6-foot-4-inch slugger collapsed.

"What happened?" he mumbled, then quickly slipped into unconsciousness. He was carried away on a stretcher.

No one could say whether the bat flew between the cage netting and its supporting pole or barely cleared the cage completely. The latter was considered most likely. It was a one-in-a-million accident.

The Redbirds will miss Sauer. They obtained him from the Chicago Cubs for Pete Whisenant and cash, figuring he would remedy their sorry 1955 record against left hand pitching.

While he was in there Sauer was a constant worry to opposing managers and pitchers. Manager Fred Hutchinson and General Manager Frank Lane considered him a big asset.

Hank is tied with Hack Wilson for 8th in the all time National League home run rankings with 244.

Sauer regained consciousness in the hospital in time to hear the windup of the 3 hour 46 minute marathon which the Cardinals won 10-9 in 10 innings to regain first place.

He said he was happy Cooper contributed a game-tying 10th inning pinch single.

"It was just one of those things," he said.

"I was lucky I wasn't killed."

Big Crowds View Minor League Games

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

Who said minor league baseball can't draw in the daytime?

Three International League games were played in daylight Wednesday, and the average attendance was over 12,500 — and that's more than any major league game attracted, day or night. All three were played in miserable weather, too.

The rare daylight schedule was occasioned by the home 'openers" of the league's northern teams, and in only one case were the loyal hometown fans rewarded with a local victory. That was in Buffalo, where 11,008 braved a steady rain and saw the Bisons whip Miami 7-0.

The biggest crowd of the day, 13,862 at Montreal, was doomed to disappointment as the Columbus Jets battered a half-dozen Montreal pitchers for a 12-1 victory.

At Rochester, 12,670 fans groaned as the Havana Sugar Kings shoved across taree runs on one hit in the eighth inning and went on to a 9-5 victory.

In one other game, Buffalo blanked Miami, 7-0.

The league - leading Toronto Maple Leafs were forced to defer their home opener against Richmond until today because of rain

VMI Won't Take Part In AAU Track Meet

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—A ruling that declared William and Mary's track team ineligible for AAU competition has led officials at Virginia Military Institute to say they "want no part" of this year's state AAU track meet, for which the school had served as co-host the past three years.

VMI officials at first said late Tuesday the school had "withdrawn" as a co-host with Washington and Lee University for the 1956 event. But State AAU officials termed this statement "presumptuous," saying VMI hadn't even been asked to serve in that capacity again.

The William and Mary track team was ruled out of further AAU competition Monday because two of its members competed against miler Wes Santee—a professional in the eyes of the AAU—in a dual meet April 14 at Williamsburg.

Memorandum Says Joe Louis Asked $100,000 Extra To Bo

NEW YORK (AP) — A memorandum alleging that Joe Louis had a "terrific fear of being beaten" and demanded an extra $100,000 "under-the-table" to make a title defense in 1949 has been introduced in evidence in the government's monopoly suit against the International Boxing Club and Madison Square Garden.

The tax-free sum was to be in addition to the heavyweight champion's usual 40 per cent of the net receipts of a title fight.

This was disclosed in federal court Wednesday when the government produced an inter-office memo from Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, then president of the Garden, to Ned Irish, Garden executive vice-president.

The document was introduced during the government's cross-examination of Truman Gibson, Louis' lawyer at the time and presently secretary of the International Boxing Club.

Three Colleges Put On Probation For NCAA Violations

By ERNEST BARTON

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Auburn, the University of Florida and the University of Louisville are planning to adjust their athletic programs to the probationary status imposed on them Wednesday by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

Auburn's probation is for three years, the longest period ever handed out by the NCAA. Florida and Louisville are on probation for two years.

For the first two years, Auburn's athletes will not be allowed to compete in bowl games or any invitational event that supports the NCAA enforcement program. Florida received the same penalty for two years.

Louisville's probation applies only to its basketball team, which won the 1956 National Invitational Tournament.

Dr. Ralph Draughon, president of Auburn, probably summed up the feelings for all concerned when he called the probation "rough stuff."

The head of the Southeastern Conference school added, "I said we'd accept and live by it when the SEC penalized us and we'll try to do the same for the NCAA. We're going to do everything we canto restore the good standing of Auburn."

The University of Louisville vice president, Woodrow M. Strickler, said the school "will make every effort to take whatever steps are necessary to follow the regulations of the NCAA."

He said he thought the probation is "a little bit heavy for the violation we committed."

Fred Kent, chairman of the Florida State Board of Control, said the NCAA's action was "the first indication I have had that Florida was even under investigation."

Since the start of the NCAA enforcement program in 1952, 17 colleges have been put on probation.

The NCAA Council said it found that Auburn's assistant football coach Hal Herring offered excessive financial aid to Harry and Robert Beaube, twins from Alabama City, Ala., to get them to enroll.

Louisville and the University of Florida were found guilty of offering prospective student-athletes more financial aid than permitted by the NCAA and the Southeastern Conference.

Redlegs Blitz Dodgers 10-6

Detroit Knocks Yanks Out Of Lead, 8-1

The Associated Press
By RIP WATSON

Benching the team's star slugger may not sound like good managerial strategy, but it's worked wonders for Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Ever since big Ted Kluszewski was benched, the Redlegs have been on a diet of home runs and victories, with five roundtrippers coming Wednesday night as they blitzed Brooklyn's faltering Dodgers 10-6 for their sixth successive victory. The skein has lifted the club from the basement to a 7-5 mark with the leaders of the scrambled National League race.

Wally Post, the major league leader with 8; George Crowe, big Klu's "temporary" replacement; Ray Jablonski and Gus Bell were the home run heroes Wednesday night as the Redlegs ran their record to 17 homers in their last six games.

The modern Murderers' Row stole the headlines from the New York Giants' 6-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs in 17 innings, on Daryl Spencer's sacrifice fly, and a 10-9 victory over Pittsburgh that sent the St. Louis Cardinals to the top of the National League. Cincinnati and Milwaukee trail by a half-game and the Dodgers and Giants by a full game. Philadelphia and Milwaukee were not scheduled.

In contrast, pitching was the password in the American League with a pair of youthful right-handers, Detroit's Frank Lary and Tom Brewer of Boston supplying all the answers.

Lary knocked the New York Yankees out of first place and blanked the New Yorkers until the ninth inning, coasting to an 8-1 victory behind a 15-hit attack.

Brewer went Lary one better as he shut out Kansas City in hanging up a three-hit, 2-0 victory.

The Chicago White Sox, whose 5-2 record gives a better percentage (.714) than the Yanks .692, were rained out at Baltimore and Cleveland was washed out in Washington.

The Dodgers did some home run blasting Wednesday night, but by the time Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and Sandy Amoros got into the act it was far too late. All three connected in the eighth inning, but Cincinnati was breezing on a 9-2 lead by that time.

Joe Black, Brooklyn's 1952 ace, was the winning pitcher against his old mates, relieving Brooks Lawrence in the second inning. He had to depart himself in the eighth, Hershell Freeman coming in to protect the victory.

Kluszewski, benched last Friday for being overweight, suffered a hip injury early in spring training. He led the National League in home runs and runs-batted-in in 1954.

The Giants established a record when they sent 25 men into action against Chicago. The old mark of 24 players was set by Pittsburgh against Boston in 1940 and tied by Brooklyn against New York April 21, 1948.

The Cubs threw 23 men into the fray and the combined total of 48 also was a major league record.

Spencer was the big man for the Giants as he tripled and scored one run, blasted a two-run homer and sent home the winner with his fly.

Stan Musial bagged a grand slam home run for the Cards, but it was a squeeze bunt by light-hitting Alex Grammas that eventually won for the Red Birds in the tenth over Pittsburgh.

The Cards needed five pitchers, with little Jackie Collum picking up the win. Red Munger, a one-time Cardinal, took the loss as the fifth of seven Pirate hurlers.

Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn and Bill Tuttle each had three hits as the Tigers came up with their best batting day of the season against three Yankee pitchers. Kaline had two singles during the six-run third inning which iced the game and sent starter Johnny Kucks to the showers.

Mickey Mantle spoiled Lary's bid for a shutout by slugging his sixth home run.

MAJOR LEAGUE STARS

Pitching:

Tom Brewer, Red Sox—Shut out Kansas City 2-0 with three singles, striking out five and walking only two.

Batting:

Daryl Spencer, Giants — Walloped two singles, triple and 2-run home run, then drove in winning run with long fly as Giants edged Cubs 6-5 in 17 innings.

Buckeyes To Display '56 Grid Team

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State puts on display Saturday the football talent it hopes will carry the Bucks to an unprecedented third straight Western Conference championship next fall.

At least 10,000 fans are expected to be on hand at 2 p.m. when Coach Woody Hayes sends his first and third stringers against the second and fourth teams in the annual clinic game at the stadium.

The contest will be the feature attraction of the 25th annual Buckeye Gridiron Clinic, which will be a magnet for more than 800 of the state's scholastic mentors. The high school group will pick up tips on the split-T offense, and how to combat it, from three of the most successful exponents of that attack.

The two-day clinic "teachers" will be Charles (Bud) Wilkinson of the powerful Oklahoma club, winner over Maryland in last New Year's Orange Bowl game; Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech's Sugar Bowl champions, and Hayes and his staff.

Over the weekend, the mentors will elect Bill Kidd of New Philadelphia as president of the Ohio High School Football Coaches Assn., succeeding Wayne Stoddard of Akron North. The group also will receive bids on the 1957 north-south all-star game site. The 1956 game is scheduled Aug. 17 at Canton's Fawcett Stadium, but may be delayed to Aug. 18 in case of rain.

Ohio State will show pictures of the 1955 game with Michigan, and the 'Ohio State Highlights" film Friday morning, and Dodd will handle the afternoon lectures on 'game plans." Group drills and demonstrations by the Buckeyes will be held late in the day, and in the evening Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson will address the annual banquet.

Saturday's clinic sessions will feature films of the Orange and Sugar Bowl contests, and Wilkinson's talks on offensive and defensive football.

Hayes said today end Leo Brown and fullback Don Vicic, both regulars, would miss Saturday's clinic game, but that end Fred Kriss, tackles Bill Michael and Dick Guy, guards Jim Parker and Aurelius Thomas, quarterback Frank Ellwood, and halfbacks Joe Cannavino and Jim Roseboro of the 1955 champions would play.

Newcomers making a big bid for regular berths will include ends Russ Bowermaster and Tom Morgan of Hamilton, tackle Al Crawford of Canton, guard Dan Fronk of Dover, center Tom Dillman of Middletown, and backs Dick LeBeau of London, Carl Peggs of Fostoria and Leroy Carr of Portsmouth.

6-Team Girls League Set Up For Softball

A six-team girls' softball league was formed at a meeting of the girls' team managers and officials of the Softball Association at the Memorial Building Wednesday night.

The Georgetown girls' team, last years champions, will be sponsored by the Purity Dairy this year. The Salem Red Caps will be sponsored by Fisher's News Agency. Other teams will be Homeworth, West End girls of Salem and the Flying Octanes of Hanoverton.

Attempts are being made to reorganize the Columbiana Merchants girls' team for the sixth entry in the league.

A meeting of managers of Salem industrial teams will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Memorial Building.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NO. 560403.18

ORDINANCE FIXING THE MAXIMUM RATES TO BE CHARGED AND THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS UPON WHICH OHIO EDISON COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS SHALL FURNISH ELECTRIC SERVICE TO RESIDENTIAL AND SECONDARY LIGHT AND POWER CUSTOMERS WITHIN THE CITY OF SALEM, OHIO

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE Council of the City of Salem, State of Ohio:

Section 1. Subject to the terms and conditions of this ordinance there is hereby granted to Ohio Edison Company, its successors and assigns, the right to furnish electric service to residential customers and secondary light and power customers in the City of Salem, Ohio, and to charge therefor at rates not to exceed the rates set forth in the following schedules:

SCHEDULE NO. 1
Residential Service Rate

AVAILABILITY:
Available for residential lighting and appliance service, to installations served through one meter for each family unit in a residence or apartment.
When the service is used through the same meter for both residential and commercial purposes the commercial rate shall apply.
This rate is not available for commercial, institutional or industrial service.

SERVICE:
Alternating current, sixty (60) cycles, single phase, nominal voltage 120-240.

RATE:
The monthly charge per customer shall be computed under the applicable Section A or B:

Section A:
Applicable when the measured demands do not exceed 5 Kw for two consecutive months, including service to motors of not more than 3 horsepower capacity.

Energy Charge:
5.00c net per K.W.H. for the first 20 K.W.H. per month
4.25c net per K.W.H for the next 35 K.W.H. per month.
3.50c net per K.W.H. for the next 45 K.W.H. per month
2.25c net per K.W.H. for the next 50 K.W.H. per month
2.00c net per K.W.H. for all over 150 K.W.H. per month

Minimum Charge:
$1.50 net per month per customer.

Section B:
Applicable, for not less than 12 consecutive months, when the measured demands have been more than 5 Kw for at least two consecutive months, including service to motors of not more than 3 horsepower capacity.

Energy Charge:
5.00c net per K.W.H. for the first 4 hours use per month of billing demand
4.25c net per K.W.H. for the next 7 hours use per month of billing demand
3.50c net per K.W.H. for the next 9 hours use per month of billing demand
2.25c net per K.W.H. for the next 10 hours use per month of billing demand
2.00c net per K.W.H. for the next 70 hours use per month of billing demand
1.75c net per K.W.H. for all over 100 hours use per month of billing demand

Minimum Charge:
$1.00 net per month per Kw of billing demand as hereinafter defined.

TERMS OF PAYMENT:
The net amount billed is due and payable within a period of ten days as shown on the bill. If the net amount is not paid within such ten-day period the gross amount, which is 5 per cent more than the net amount, is due and payable.

DEMAND:
The measured demand, or rate of use of electric energy, shall be the highest reading of a thermal type demand meter during the period of greatest use during each month.
The billing demand shall be the measured demand, during each month, but not less than the highest measured demand for any of the preceding twelve months and in no case less than 5 Kw.
When the service is re-established for the benefit of the same customer at the same location within a period of less than 12 months from the time the service was discontinued, the billing demand shall be not less than the highest measured demand for any of the preceding 12 months in which service was furnished.

MULTIFAMILY DWELLINGS:
Where two or more families, with separate cooking facilities, occupy a residential dwelling, the wiring shall be arranged so that the service to each family can be metered and billed separately. If the wiring is not so arranged and two or more families are served through one meter, the energy blocks and minimum charges in either Section A or Section B shall be multiplied by the number of families served.

SEASONAL OCCUPANCY:
Where service has been discontinued at customer's request because of seasonal occupancy of the premises, the minimum charge as above provided, shall not be applicable during such discontinuance of service, but in lieu thereof a charge of $5 will be made when service is re-established.

CONTRACT:
A written application is required.

RULES AND REGULATIONS:
The Standard Rules and Regulations shall apply to the installation and use of electric service.
Motors and equipment served under this rate shall have electrical characteristics so as not to interfere with service supplied to other customers of the Company.

SCHEDULE NO. 2
Secondary Light and Power Service
Small
(Annual Contract)

AVAILABILITY:
Availability for secondary light and power service except that when the demand exceeds 100 K.W. the Company reserves the right to furnish service at primary or transmission voltages in accordance with the appropriate applicable rate schedule.
Single phase motors rated at nominal 230 volts with locked rotor current not exceeding 130 amperes may be included with single phase lighting service furnished through one meter.
Single and three phase service will be metered and billed separately or where feasible, single and three phase service will be furnished through a single meter installation and billed as one account provided the customer arranges his wiring to facilitate the installation of a single meter.
Where a transformer installation is utilized solely to furnish secondary service to a single customer, the Company may meter the service on the primary side of the transformers, and in such case the demand and energy registrations shall each be reduced 2 per cent.

SERVICE:
Alternating current, 60 cycles, at nominal voltages of 120-240 or 120-208 volts single phase, or 120-208 or 240 volts three phase, as available from suitable facilities of adequate capacity adjacent to the premises to be served.
Other voltages may be obtained from available distribution facilities provided the customer owns, operates and maintains all necessary transforming, controlling, regulating and protective equipment, in which case service will be metered at the Company's supply voltage.

RATE:
The monthly charge per customer shall be:
5.00c net per K.W.H. for the first 30 K.W.H.
4.25c net per K.W.H for the next 220 K.W.H.
3.25c net per K.W.H. for the next 1,750 K.W.H. plus 50 K.W.H. per K.W. of demand in excess of 25 K.W.
2.25c net per K.W.H. for the additional K.W.H.:
Minimum Charge:
$1.50 net including the first 5 K.W. of demand plus
1.00 net per K.W. over 5 K.W. of demand, but not less than:
1.50 net for single phase service or $5.00 net for three phase service.

DEMAND:
The metered demand shall be determined monthly from the highest registration of a thermal demand meter or, at the option of the Company, from a 30-minute integrating demand meter.
The demand used in calculating the monthly bill shall be (1) the metered demand for the month corrected for power factor and adjusted where primary metering is applicable or (2) 60 per cent of the highest demand used for billing during the current service period, or (3) 5 K.W., whichever is the greatest.

POWER FACTOR CORRECTION:
The Company may, at its option, test or meter the power factor of the Customer's load and for a lagging power factor of less than eighty-five hundredths (0.85) the demand shall be adjusted by multiplying the demand by the ratio that 0.85 bears to the power factor of the load. No correction will be made where the power factor is found to be greater than 0.85 or for leading power factor.

Bills shall be adjusted to offset the imposition of or removal of any new or increased tax levied by any taxing authority upon the Company's generation, distribution or sale of electric energy after January 1, 1955.

TERMS OF PAYMENT:
The net amount billed is due and payable within a period of ten days. If the net amount is not paid on or before the date shown on the bill the gross amount, which is 3 per cent more than the net bill is due and payable.

AUXILIARY OR STAND-BY SERVICE:
When auxiliary or stand-by service is furnished, a contract demand shall be established by mutual agreement and shall be specified in the service contract.
No reduction in contract demand shall be permitted during the term of the contract. In re-contracting for auxiliary or stand-by service, the new contract demand shall not be less than 60 per cent of the highest demand used for billing during the last eleven months of the previous contract term.

CONTRACT:
Minimum term shall be for one year on the Company's contract form.

RULES AND REGULATIONS:
The Company's Standard Rules and Regulations shall apply to the installation and use of electric service.

SCHEDULE NO. 3
Secondary Light and Power Service
Small

AVAILABILITY:
Available for secondary light and power service except that when the demand exceeds 100 K.W. the Company reserves the right to furnish service at primary or transmission voltages in accordance with the appropriate applicable rate schedule.
Single phase motors rated at nominal 230 volts with locked rotor current not exceeding 130 amperes may be included with single phase lighting service furnished through one meter.
Single and three phase service will be metered and billed separately or, where feasible, single and three phase service will be furnished through a single meter installation and billed as one account provided the customer arranges his wiring to facilitate the installation of a single meter.
Where a transformer installation is utilized solely to furnish secondary service to a single customer, the Company may meter the service on the primary side of the transformers, and in such case the demand and energy registrations shall each be reduced 2 per cent.
This rate is not available for auxiliary or stand-by service.

SERVICE:
Alternating current, 60 cycles, at nominal voltages of 120-240 or 120-208 volts single phase, or 120-208 or 240 volts three phase, as available from suitable facilities of adequate capacity adjacent to the premises to be served.
Other voltages may be obtained from available distribution facilities provided the customer owns, operates and maintains all necessary transforming, controlling, regulating and protective equipment, in which case service will be metered at the Company's supply voltage.

RATE:
The monthly charge per customer shall be:
5.00c net per K.W.H. for the first 30 K.W.H.
4.25c net per K.W.H for the next 220 K.W.H.
3.25c net per K.W.H. for the next 1,750 K.W.H plus 50 K.W.H. per K.W. of demand in excess of 25 K.W
2.25c net per K.W.H. for the additional K.W.H.
Minimum Charge:
$1.50 net including the first 5 K.W. of demand plus
1.00 net per K.W. over 5 K.W. of demand, but not less than:
1.50 net for single phase service or $5.00 net for three phase service.

DEMAND:
The metered demand shall be determined monthly from the highest registration of a thermal demand meter or, at the option of the Company, from a 30-minute integrating demand meter.
The demand used in calculating the monthly bill shall be (1) the metered demand for the month corrected for power factor and adjusted where primary metering is applicable, or (2) 60 per cent of the highest demand used for billing during the preceding eleven months, or (3) 5 K.W., whichever is the greatest.

No correction will be made where the power factor is found to be greater than 0.85 or for leading power factor.

TAX ADJUSTMENT:
Bills shall be adjusted to offset the imposition of or removal of any new or increased tax levied by any taxing authority upon the Company's generation, distribution or sale of electric energy after January 1, 1955.

TERMS OF PAYMENT:
The net amount billed is due and payable within a period of ten days. If the net amount is not paid on or before the date shown on the bill the gross amount, which is 3 per cent more than the net bill is due and payable.

AUXILIARY OR STAND-BY SERVICE:
When auxiliary or stand-by service is furnished, a contract demand shall be established by mutual agreement and shall be specified in the service contract.
No reduction in contract demand shall be permitted during the term of the contract. In re-contracting for auxiliary or stand-by service, the new contract demand shall not be less than 60 per cent of the highest demand used for billing during the last eleven months of the previous contract term.

CONTRACT:
Minimum term shall be for one year on the Company's contract form.

RULES AND REGULATIONS:
The Company's Standard Rules and Regulations shall apply to the installation and use of electric service.

SCHEDULE NO. 3
Secondary Light and Power Service
Small

AVAILABILITY:
Available for secondary light and power service except that when the demand exceeds 100 K.W. the Company reserves the right to furnish service at primary or transmission voltages in accordance with the appropriate applicable rate schedule.
Single phase motors rated at nominal 230 volts with locked rotor current not exceeding 130 amperes may be included with single phase lighting service furnished through one meter.
Single and three phase service will be metered and billed separately or, where feasible, single and three phase service will be furnished through a single meter installation and billed as one account provided the customer arranges his wiring to facilitate the installation of a single meter.
Where a transformer installation is utilized solely to furnish secondary service to a single customer, the Company may meter the service on the primary side of the transformers, and in such case the demand and energy registrations shall each be reduced 2 per cent.
This rate is not available for auxiliary or stand-by service.

SERVICE:
Alternating current, 60 cycles, at nominal voltages of 120-240 or 120-208 volts single phase, or 120-208 or 240 volts three phase, as available from suitable facilities of adequate capacity adjacent to the premises to be served.
Other voltages may be obtained from available distribution facilities provided the customer owns, operates and maintains all necessary transforming, controlling, regulating and protective equipment, in which case service will be metered at the Company's supply voltage.

RATE:
The monthly charge per customer shall be the sum of the following capacity charges and energy charges as adjusted in accordance with the provisions of the fuel and tax adjustments:

Capacity Charges:
$2.50 net per K.V.A. for the first 100 K.V.A. of billing demand
$2.05 net per K.V.A. for the next 300 KVA of billing demand
$180 net per K.V.A. for the next 1,100 K.V.A. of billing demand
$1.65 net per K.V.A. for all over 1,500 K.V.A. of billing demand.

Energy Charges:
The first 250 kilowatt-hours per K.V.A. of billing demand or 50,000 kilowatt - hours, whichever is the greater:
1.05c net per K.W.H. for the first 25,000 K.W.H.
0.95c net per K.W.H for the next 25,000 KW.H.
0.90c net per K.W.H. for the next 50,000 K.W.H.
0.85c net per K.W.H. for the next 100,000 K.W.H.
0.80c net per K.W.H. for the next 300,000 K.W.H.
0.75c net per K.W.H. for all over 500,000 K.W.H.

For all over 250 kilowatt - hours per K.V.A. of billing demand or 50,000 kilowatt-hours, whichever is the greater:
0.70c net per K.W.H.

Determination of Billing Demand:
The term demand is defined as the average rate of use of electric energy measured in kilovolt-amperes (K.V.A.) during any thirty-minute period.
The billing demand for the month shall be the highest 30-minute demand during the month, adjusted where primary metering is applicable, except that in no event shall be billing demand be less than 50 K.V.A.; nor less than 60 per cent of the highest billing demand during the preceding eleven months; nor less than the contract demand when the customer receives auxiliary or stand-by service.

Minimum Charge:
The minimum monthly charge shall be the net capacity charges applied to the billing demand.

Fuel Adjustment:
The net energy charges shall be adjusted by a decrease or an increase of 0.0065c per kilowatt-hour for each one cent variation below $1.60 or above $2.10 per ton (2,000 lbs) in the cost of coal burned in the Company's interconnected steam-electric generating stations during the month immediately preceding the month covered by the service bill. The cost per ton of coal burned shall be the sum of the costs of coal on hand at the first of the month and the costs of coal received during the month including transportation and all charges incident to the storage and the delivery of coal into the station bunkers divided by the sum of the number of tons on hand and received.

Tax Adjustment:
Bills shall be adjusted to offset the imposition of or removal of any new or increased tax levied by any taxing authority upon the Company's generation, distribution or sale of electric energy after January 1, 1955.

ADJUSTMENT FOR PRIMARY SERVICE:
Where the service is furnished and metered at normal primary voltage of less than 2400 nor more than 13,000 as available from suitable facilities of adequate capacity adjacent to the premises to be served, and the customer owns, operates and maintains all necessary transforming, controlling, regulating and protective equipment, the demand and energy registrations shall each be reduced 2 per cent and the above net capacity charges shall be reduced 20 cents per K.V.A. of billing demand.

TERMS OF PAYMENT:
The net amount billed, including fuel and tax adjustments, is due and payable within a period of ten days. If the net amount is not paid on or before the date shown on the bill the gross amount, which is 3 per cent more than the net amount, is due and payable.

AUXILIARY OR STAND-BY SERVICE:
When auxiliary or stand-by service is furnished, a contract demand shall be established by mutual agreement and shall be specified in the service contract.
No reduction in contract demand shall be permitted during the term of the contract. In re-contracting for auxiliary or stand-by service, the new contract demand shall not be less than 60 per cent of the highest billing demand during the last eleven months of the previous contract term.

CONTRACT:
Electric service hereunder will be furnished in accordance with a written contract which by its terms shall be in full force and effect for a minimum period of one year and shall continue in force thereafter from year to year unless either party shall give to the other not less than 60 days notice in writing prior to the expiration date of any of said yearly periods that the contract shall be terminated at the expiration date of said yearly period. When a contract is terminated in the manner provided herein, the service will be discontinued.
When the service is re-established for the benefit of the same customer at the same location within a period of less than twelve months from the date when service was discontinued, all of the conditions in the previous contract period applicable to billing demands shall not be less than 60 per cent of the highest billing demand during the last eleven months of the previous contract period.

RULES AND REGULATIONS:
The Company's Standard Rules and Regulations shall apply to the installation and use of electric service.

Section 2. The rates provided for in Section 1 shall be effective with and be applied to meter readings taken on and after the effective date of this Ordinance. They shall continue in effect for a period of ten (10) years from such date, provided that after such rates have been in effect for a period of one year, either the City or the Company may, by giving the other at least six (6) months prior written notice, terminate any then existing rate schedule and such termination shall, unless otherwise agreed upon by the City and the Company, be effective upon the expiration of the notice period. When such notice is given, the City and the Company shall agree upon a rate schedule to replace the then existing schedule.

Section 3. As of the effective date of this Ordinance the rates as contained herein shall be the only available electric rates for residential service and secondary light and power service and shall supersede any rate theretofore applicable to such services. After the effective date of this Ordinance the Company may publish additional or optional schedules for various classes of service, and any customer may, at his option, elect to purchase service in accordance with such additional or optional rate schedules by complying with all the terms and conditions of such schedules.

Section 4. Ordinance No. 501107.53, and any and all other ordinances or sections thereof in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

Section 5. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after thirty (30) days from the date of its passage and when accepted in writing by the Ohio Edison Company, which acceptance shall be filed with the Clerk of Council.

207 BIRTHDAYS — Between them, these two women have nearly tripled the Biblical life span of three score and ten years. Mrs. Charlotte Bonner, left, from Oak Park, Ill., winks as she shows off congratulations from President Eisenhower and Cook County board president Daniel F. Ryan. She is 106, and has outlived three husbands and four children. Youngster of the two is Mrs. Pauline Sandoval, right, who is only 101. Mrs. Sandoval, of Pueblo, Colo., has had a doctor's attention only twice in her life. The first time was 11 years ago, when the medico told her she'd soon be blind. She still has sight in her right eye and now the doctor is getting glasses for her so she can enjoy her favorites—her flower garden and watching boxing, wrestling and cowboy movies on TV.

'LIQUID MOLD' DETECTS VICTIMS

Method must depend upon inked fingerprints (left). Inspector Thomas Dwyer examines enlarged radiographs of a print from inner skin.

DISASTER WORKERS and police experts will welcome with open arms a new method of obtaining fingerprints developed at the University of Michigan. The new method—called the "liquid mold" technique—involves the use of X-rays. It could be used if the hands of a dead person were so badly damaged that ordinary police methods were not effective. Fingertip is covered with a liquid which absorbs X-rays. Next an X-ray picture is taken and the developed negative will show prints which are clearer and sharper than ordinary. When surface of skin is badly damaged, a small piece of skin can be removed from the finger and used. Prof. Albert Richards developed the method. He had the co-operation of Detroit police.

Professor Richards (left) lowers dental X-ray machine to shoot a picture. Photo (right) shows upper and lower surfaces of finger and interior.

CAR KILLS CHILD

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—June Newman, 7, of Portsmouth, died in General Hospital here Wednesday of injuries received earlier when she was struck by an automobile at an intersection.

Flaky Shells Are Filled With Apple Mixture

Apple macaroon tarts are both delicate and rich.

A flaky shell filled with almonds, macaroons and apples, they are perfect for party fare or for family meals.

Use: 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 2 tablespoons sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, ½ teaspoon almond extract, 2 cups canned apple sauce, 1½ cups macaroon crumbs, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese, ¼ cup shortening, cold water, strawberry jam.

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt. Add ¼ cup milk, stirring until blended. Scald remaining milk; add to sugar mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thick. Cover; cook 10 minutes. Add almond extract, apple sauce and macaroon crumbs. Chill. Sift together flour and salt. Cut in cream cheese and shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender. Add enough water to hold ingredients together. Roll out dough; cut in rounds 1½" wider than diameter of tart pans. Fit each round into tart pan; trim edges. Prick bottom and sides with tines of fork. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees F., 5-10 minutes, or until brown. Cool. Fill tarts with apple sauce mixture. If desired, top each with teaspoon of strawberry jam. Yields 8 3½" tarts.

Spareribs With Corn Bread Stuffing

Appetites will increase as spring nears so it's a good idea to have some recipes available for healthful, hearty meals.

This dish of succulent baked spareribs with corn bread stuffing, garnished with kumquats and parsley, is sure to fill the bill when you plan to serve such a meal.

Use: 2 sides spareribs, salt and pepper, ¼ cup melted butter or margarine, ¼ cup finely chopped onion, ½ cup finely diced celery, 1 tablespoon snipped parsley or celery tops, 1 cup milk, corn bread (made from 1 standard recipe or 1 package mix), crumbled.

Brown spareribs on both sides under broiler. Sprinkle both sides with salt and pepper. Place one side of ribs in a shallow baking dish. Mix 1 teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon pepper with the remaining ingredients. (More milk can be added if a moist stuffing is preferred.) Place stuffing o top of ribs in dish. Place the other side of spareribs over the stuffing. Bake in a 325 degree F. oven 2 hours or until meat is tender. Makes 6 servings.

Surprise Mom With Salad

A young daughter eager to honor her mother on Mother's Day, May 13, might wisely surprise her with a beautiful red apple and cottage cheese luncheon salad. It is called A Slimmer's Salad Plate and is low, very low, in calories, and high, very high, in eating pleasure.

Slimmer's Apple Salad Plate

Salad greens, carrot curls, cottage cheese, fresh or canned grapefruit, Winesap apples, mayonnaise or French dressing.

Select small, leafy greens like chicory or water cress and arrange on large salad or chop plate in an X, forming four open triangles on the plate. Heap crisp carrot curls in center. Heap cottage cheese in two opposite triangles, allowing approximately half a cup of cottage cheese to each serving. Cut apples into thick slices and core. Place grapefruit sections in a bowl and add apple slices so the slices become coated with juice. Arrange apple and grapefruit sections in remaining two triangles. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Here's another Mother's Day luncheon salad using fresh fruits:

Molded Fresh Rhubarb and Orange Salad with Fresh Strawberries—The rhubarb will be cooked in water and the juice used as the liquid for making the gelatin. Of course, citrus fruit juice is added to it.

Teens Try Protein Cereal

Teen-agers are notorious for their poor snacking habits. Studies of Iowa school children made by Dr. Ercel S. Eppright and Dr. Pearl P. Swanson, Department of Food and Nutrition, Iowa State College, prove this.

Teen-age boys consumed about 13 to 17 percent of their total day's intake in snacks; teen-age girls about 16 per cent.

Therefore, they recommend that efforts to improve the nutritive quality of the diets of Iowa school children be directed toward the improvement of snacks. Any hope for improving the nutritional quality of snacks lies in the home.

A serving of cereal and milk is an ideal evening snack for the teen-ager.

For example, a 16-year-old boy requires about 3800 calories a day. A one-ounce serving of cereal, four ounces of milk, and 1 teaspoon of sugar provide only 208 calories or 5.5 per cent of the daily caloric requirements. However, it provides from 7 to 12 per cent of the daily requirements of high-quality protein, the B-vitamins (thiamine, niacin and riboflavin) and the minerals, calcium, phosphorus and iron.

Crunchy Cereal Topping

Four cups bran flakes or wholewheat flakes, ½ cup melted butter or margarine, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 (10½-ounce) can condensed cream of tomato soup, ½ cup milk, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ½ pound American cheese, grated, 8 hard-cooked eggs.

Crush bran or wholewheat flakes slightly; mix with ¼ cup butter or margarine. Press ½ of flakes in even layer on bottom of square pan, 8 x 8 x 2-inches. Cook onions until tender in remaining butter. Add tomato soup, milk, mustard, salt and pepper. Heat slowly, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; fold in cheese. Pour ½ of mixture over wholewheat flakes. Cut eggs in half lengthwise; arrange halves on rabbit. Pour remaining rabbit over eggs and top with remaining bran or wholewheat flakes. Place in slow oven (325 degrees F.) to heat through, about 25 minutes.

Easy Sauce To Go With Meat Dishes

Many readers ask for good sauce to serve with meats. From the home economics department of a large Chicago packer, we collected these tested and easy to follow recipes:

Cranberry-Raisin Sauce

Cranberry juice and cloves provide a sweet, spicy sauce that adds special flavor to ham, pork, and veal.

One-half cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon ground cloves, 1 cup cranberry juice cocktail, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons raisins.

Mix sugar, cornstarch, and cloves in a saucepan. Gradually stir in cranberry juice, lemon juice, and raisins! Cook over medium heat until thick, about 5 to 7 minutes. Serve hot.

Pineapple-Mint Sauce

A sauce with a minty, sweet flavor for lamb.

One-fourth cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 2 cups pineapple juice, 8 drops mint extract, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Combine brown sugar and cornstarch. Add remaining ingredients. Cook until mixture boils. Serve with hot lamb.

Mushroom Sauce

Especially good with beef. It dresses up broiled beef patties and meat loaf. Mushroom sauce makes a party dish of leftover oven or pot roast. Some like to serve this with broiled steak.

One-fourth cup butter or margarine, 1 cup sliced mushrooms, ¼ cup flour, 2 cups brown stock or bouillon, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce (optional).

Melt butter in heavy skillet. Add mushrooms and cook until brown. Stir in flour. Brown thoroughly. Add stock slowly, stirring constantly. Cook until thick and smooth. Add seasonings. Simmer 5 to 10 minutes.

Save Your Valuable Rugs and Furnishings

Don't let harsh, gritty dirt wear your household furnishings down and ruin them.

Clean them frequently and easily — preserve the bright, original colors — by using gentle Blue Lustre. The swift action of this miracle foam works equally well on wall-to-wall carpeting, fine Oriental rugs or upholstery.

Blue Lustre doesn't sog or mat the fabric, nor leave a gummy remainder. It simply brushes in and gets the dirt out. Easy to use and inexpensive, one half gallon of Blue Lustre will clean three 9x12 rugs.

Pineapple Chiffon for Mother

Any mother would be thrilled if her high school daughter made her this Mother's Day pie—cool and beautiful, as smooth as pineapple ice cream, and decorated with sweetheart roses. Even the crust has pineapple flavor. The light and fluffy filling needs no baking.

Pineapple Chiffon Pie

One envelope unflavored gelatin ¾ cup sugar, divided, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 4 eggs, separated, 1¼ cups pineapple juice, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ cup heavy cream, whipped, 1 9-inch baked pineapple pie shell (see below), strawberries.

Mix together gelatin, ¼ cup of the sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Beat together egg yolks and pineapple juice; add to gelatin mixture. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly and gelatin dissolves, about 5 to 7 minutes. Remove from heat; add lemon juice. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining ½ cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture; fold in whipped cream. Turn into baked pineapple pastry shell. Chill in refrigerator until firm. To serve, garnish pie with additional whipped cream homogenized shortening, 3 tablespoons canned pineapple juice, heated, 1 teaspoon milk, 1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons chopped coconut.

Put shortening in mixing bowl. Add heated pineapple juice and milk and whip with fork until all liquid is absorbed and a thick, smooth mixture is formed. Sift flour and salt onto shortening, whip and stir into a dough. Pick u and work until smooth; shape into a flat round. Roll between 2 12-inch squares of waxed paper into a circle ⅛-inch thick. Peel off top paper, sprinkle 2 tablespoons chopped coconut over pastry, leaving a 1-inch border plain. Recover with paper and roll coconut into dough. Turn pastry over and repeat, rolling in remaining 2 tablespoons coconut. Peel off top paper; place pastry in 9-inch pie pan, pastry next to pan. Remove paper, fit pastry into pan, trim ½-inch beyond pan—turn back even with pan. flute rim. Prick shell all over with fork. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 12-15 minutes.

Pineapple Coconut Pie Shell

One-half cup less 1 tablespoon and garnish with sliced strawberries.

Gingerbread Boys, Cookies

Several readers have asked for an old-fashioned soft-molasses cookie recipe.

Molasses Cookies

Two and one-quarter cups sifted, all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, unbeaten, ½ cup unsulphured molasses, ½ cup water.

Sift together flour, soda, ginger, cinnamon and salt. Cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg and molasses; mix well.

Add dry ingredients alternately with water, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Drop by heaping spoonsful on ungreased cookie sheet.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes. Store in closely covered contoiner.

Gingerbread Boys

One-half cup shortening, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup unsulphured molasses, 1 egg, 2½ cups sifted, all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1½ teaspoons cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg.

Cream together shortening, sugar and molasses. Add egg; mix well. Sift together flour, salt, soda baking powder and spices. Add to molasses mixture; mix well. Chill dough about 2 hours.

Roll out 1-3 inch thick on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut with a 6-inch gingerbread man cutter, or cut around cardboard pattern.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes.

Ornamental Frosting

Sift together 1 cup confectioners' sugar and ⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar; add 1 egg white and ¼ teaspoon vanilla. Beat with a rotary beater until frosting holds its shape.

Oatmeal Cookies Flavorful

Studies on the eating habits of school-age children in Rhode Island, New York, Maine and Iowa show that between-meal nibbling is an accepted part of the youthful pattern of eating.

However, Dr. Ethel Austin Martin, prominent nutrition authority and author of a recent book on child nutrition, points out the pitalls of the habit.

Haphazard "piecing" between the regular meals and, particularly, the indiscriminate eating of sweets may tend to reduce both the quality and the quantity of the day's food intake.

The active nine- or 10-year-old needs some additional food after school, but the quality of the afterschool snack should be improved.

A serving of ready-to-eat cereal and milk or simple cookies served with milk rate high as an adequate snack for the school-age child. In addition to food energy, so important for the active child, the combination contributes protein, the Bpcomplex vitamins, and minerals. All are valuable nutrients for the growing child.

A basic principle of child guidance is to set the stage so that i is easier to do the right thing than the wrong. Junior is much more apt to eat a wholesome snack if mother has one ready when he comes from school.

Molasses Oatmeal Cookies

One and one-half cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder; 1½ teaspoons sal, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ cup soft fat, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 eggs, beaten, 1½ teaspoons vanilla, ½ cup milk, 1-3 cup molasses, 2 cups rolled oats, uncooked, 1 cup raisins.

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon together. Combine fat and sugar; beat until light and fluffy. Mix eggs, vanilla, milk and molasses together. Add ½ of the flour-spice mix and liquids, at a time, to the creamed fat and sugar mixture. Mix well after each addition. Blend in rolled oats and raisins. Drop rounded tablespoonfuls onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done, 10 to 12 minutes.

Have you wondered what gives John Liber's Prize Brand Bacon that distinctive old country - smoked flavor?

It's the curing process — 21 days over apple and hickory smoke. It takes time to impart that tangy, distinctive flavor you remember from "down on the farm." No one has ever been able to duplicate that smokehouse flavor.

Try John Liber's Prize Brand Bacon in the slab or in slices in the one-pound cellophane wrapped package.

Beef Rolls Are Unusual Treat

We tried this new recipe last night and everyone voted it worthy of our column. So here goes:

Olive Beef Roll

Two pounds ground beef round, ¼ cup finely-chopped onion, ½ cup chopped pimento-stuffed green olives, ½ cup catsup, 2 eggs, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 3 cups fresh bread cubes, another ¼ cup finely-chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1½ teaspoons poultry seasoning, ½ teaspoon salt 1-3 cup melted butter or margarine, ¼ cup small pimento-stuffed green olives.

Combine beef, ¼ cup onion, chopped olives, catsup, 1 egg and ⅛ teaspoon pepper; mix well. Roll out on waxed paper into a rectangle ¼-inch thick, about 10 x 16 inches. Meanwhile, combine remaining egg, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, bread cubes, ¼ cup onion, parsley, poultry seasoning, salt and butter or margarine; mix well. Spread evenly over meat mixture. Arrange whole olives on edge of meat mixture. Roll up jelly-roll fashion. Place seam-side down in greased baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour.

This is a good dish, too. Wonderful with whipped potatoes.

Paprika Swiss Beef

Two pounds round steak, ½-inch thick; 2 tablespoons fat, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 clove garlic, peeled; 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, ¾ cup sour milk or cream, 1 teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons flour.

Melt fat in a skillet. Rub the meat with salt and ⅛ teapsoon paprika. Brown the garlic in the hot fat. Remove the garlic.

Add the meat and brown well on both sides. Add water and Worcestershire sauce. Cover and cook slowly about 2 hours. Add sour milk and 1 teaspoon paprika. Continue to cook slowly 15 minutes. Remove the steak to a hot plater. Thicken the broth with the flour mixed with ½ cup cold water. Stir and boil 5 minutes. Serve the gravy over the meat.

Parents Of Girl Who Wed At 11 Are Jailed

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP) — Juvenile Judge Don J. Young has sentenced a Galion couple to one-year terms for acting in a way tending to cause the delinquency of their adopted daughter.

The one-year terms and fines of $250 each were imposed on Carl and Katherine Gans. The couple was charged in connection with the marriage of 11-year-old Karlene Gans. Court testimony showed the pair aided her in obtaining a West Virginia marriage license so that Karlene could marry Stanley Thorne, 18.

Thorne charged the girl's parents lied about her age so that she could obtain the license. A jury found the couple guilty last March 29.

3 IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY of our dear Mother, Anna Lease, who passed away 2 years ago today.
Our lips cannot tell how much we miss her,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
God alone knows how much we miss her
In hearts that are lonesome today.
Sadly missed by her children.
